Security Council Considers Charge Against Albania

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations security council, overriding the vigorous objections of Soviet Russia, voted today to consider the British charges against Albania. The vote was 10 to 0 with Russia abstaining.

[illegible] Gromyko argued when the British case was brought up that the British had not exhausted all attempts at direct settlement.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, promptly said all steps had been taken before the case was brought to the council.

The British charge that Albania was responsible for mines in Corfu Channel which blew off the bows of two British ships and killed 44 sailors last Oct. 22. Albania has disclaimed all responsibility.

Support Coming For Jobless V.C.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (CP) — One of the first British soldiers to receive the Victoria Cross in the Second World War—L.Cpl. Harry Nicholls—is out of work and destitute here, but Nottingham is rallying around to set him on his feet.

Nicholls, who suffers attacks of dizziness due to war wounds and has an ailing wife and seven-year-old daughter, recently applied for public assistance. The National Union of Shopkeepers is investigating his case and may set him up as a sports outfitter, financed by public subscription.

Nicholls, one-time heavyweight boxing champion of the Imperial services, served with the Grenadier Guards. He won the V.C. for a single-handed attack on a German machine gun nest during the Dunkerque retreat in May, 1940.

British Footballers Reject Wage Offer; To Ask Arbitration

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—The Football Players' Union today rejected league management committee wage proposals and said that if the league clubs accept the recommendations at a special meeting here Feb. 24, the union will apply to the Labor Ministry for compulsory arbitration.

The union demands maximum wages of £12 ($48) a week in winter and £10 in summer as well as minimums of £7 and £5. The management committee's proposals are for £1 less in each case.

A statement issued after the union meeting said the union agreed on many points, "but feels the management committee has sidetracked the main issues involved."

GIVEN INSTRUCTIONS

The statement added: "We have been instructed by our members that unless an amicable agreement is reached on all points raised, drastic action will be taken."

James Fay, secretary of the union, said the players were prepared to fall into line with any government plan on freezing of wages, but so far as he was aware, such a plan would not affect a footballer.

[illegible] union, said players were "just dissatisfied" over the way their proposals had been handled by the football league.

"The league clubs will be dealing with demands made almost 12 months ago and the union has reason to feel justified in pressing for a further increase in minimum rates," he said.

U.N. Postpones Arms Cut Talk

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations Security Council today postponed consideration of arms reduction proposals until Feb. 4. The vote was 9 to 4, Russia and Poland voting in the negative.

The council thus approved the United States request for more time to study the arms reduction proposals despite a last-minute argument by Soviet Russia against the postponement.

Ceiling Reimposed On Used Bagging

OTTAWA (CP) — The Prices Board announced today that price ceilings, removed Jan. 13 from used bags, used bagging and baling material, will be reimposed tomorrow because of indications that "extreme and disorderly" price increases for the products were developing.

In reimposing the ceilings the board will adjust the prices of used bags from 1½ to 3 cents above their former maximum prices.

Doctor Loses Fight; Starts 3-Year Term

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. David Tass of Winnipeg today began a three-year penitentiary term following his conviction on a charge of aiding in an illegal operation on a woman.

Dr. Tass' conviction, last May 12, followed that of Edward Ford, who pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter.

Attorneys for the doctor carried the fight against conviction to the Supreme Court of Canada, but lost in a decision handed down late last month. The court ruled that a witness who gives evidence involving himself and fails to invoke the protection of the Canada Evidence Act may later be convicted on that testimony "Notwithstanding the fact that he may not know his rights."

Start Conversion Of Alaska Highway

WINNIPEG (CP)—Initial steps now are being taken by military personnel to convert the 1,250-mile northwest highway from Edmonton to Alaska into an integral part of the Canadian highway system, it was announced here today at Prairie Command headquarters.

Seven hundred Canadian soldiers are responsible for the road, handling maintenance, technical details and store problems.

Report Japs Taking Steps To Resume Business In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — In a newspage story this afternoon the Vancouver Sun says British Columbia Japanese are taking steps to get back into business in the province.

The article continues:

"Biggest move in this direction to date is a plan for organization of a $40,000 Japanese-Occidental cannery at Lillooet.

"A representative of the Japanese living in the Lillooet area is now en route to Vancouver to interview Labor Department officials regarding possibilities of his people buying property and taking other steps to establish a business. An R.C.M.P. permit for the representative to travel to the coast was obtained.

"Japanese may make application direct to the Federal Minister of Labor to buy land anywhere in Canada, labor officials said today.

"A Farmers' Co-operative has been established at Lillooet, and the group has an option to buy a tomato cannery there for $40,000. If this cannery cannot be bought for this sum, the farmers have agreed to build another one.

"Japanese farmers in the region have submitted a plan whereby they would take 49 per cent of the stock in the co-operative, with a board of three white representatives and two Japanese.

"Lillooet is not in the coastal security zone, from which Japanese are still barred.

"The Lillooet Japanese moved into the area immediately after evacuation from the coast began. They became self-supporting there . . . about 5,500 of the estimated 6,300 Japanese still remaining in B.C. are self-supporting . . ."

Britain Calling For Immigrants

LONDON (CP)—Britain must encourage immigration from Europe and bearing of larger families by her mothers, the Times of London declared today in a leading article on British Commonwealth policies.

Such policies were needed not only to combat present manpower difficulties in Britain, "but also in order to be able to maintain her responsibility of providing the Dominions with a steady, if modest, supply of new citizens," the paper said.

"The expansion of the Dominions within the British way of life and the maintenance of a balanced labor force in the mother country are both requirements of Empire and world prosperity."

The Times said many would-be immigrants awaiting transportation in Britain would be disappointed by the outcome of the Australian ministers' conference at Canberra which decided that large-scale immigration must be abandoned for some years.

The Times added that other Dominions also are looking for "young and skilled immigrants," but the article did not specifically mention Canada.

Ottawa Rumors Say Subsidies To Be Removed

OTTAWA (CP) — Rumors circulated on Parliament Hill today that the government would remove subsidies holding down retail prices of bread and butter this spring and allow these commodities to advance.

These reports, unconfirmed in any official quarter, said the elimination of the payments would result in the price of bread advancing 15 to 25 per cent a loaf and the price of butter eight cents a pound.

Government sources declined comment, but it was recalled that Agriculture Minister Gardiner told a press conference several weeks ago that subsidies on milk going into the production of butter and similar products would be reviewed before April 30, the date they are due to expire.

On the basis of this statement, it was assumed this review might already be under way.

There has been no comparable public statement on the subsidy applied to wheat destined for domestic consumption as bread, but for some time the government has been under steady pressure from wheat growers seeking removal of this payment.

HE'S ANTI-GENIUS—Don't quote the bright sayings of your little Junior when Dr. Harlow Shapley, above, director of Harvard Observatory, is around. Declaring that of the five worst enemies of mankind, the "genius maniac" is the most potent killer, he suggested genius could be controlled by killing off, in infancy, "all primates that show any evidence of promise of genius, or even talent." His drastic "remedy" was made in speech to American Association for the Advancement of Science in Boston, Mass. Members elected him president for 1947.

Polish Election Death Toll 133

WARSAW (AP) — Campaign and election day attacks by the underground on poll commissioners and militiamen appeared today to have cost 133 lives.

The government said 35 poll commission officials were killed and another 24 were kidnapped and presumed slain. At least 16 underground fighters were killed, along with 58 members of the Volunteer Citizens' Militia and the regular militia.

Numerous attempted attacks were reported beaten off Sunday in the Lublin, Poznan, Rzeszow and Bialystok districts.

Vancouver B.C.E.R. Carbarn Looted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today continued search for three "Robin Hood" bandits who escaped with $1,200 in cash and streetcar tickets early Sunday from a B.C. Electric Company car barns here. The masked robbers were interested only in company money and twice refused money and valuables belonging to individuals. A fourth man was believed to have driven the getaway car.

Weather Delays Swearing-In Plans For Gen. Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall will take his [illegible] White House.

Originally he was scheduled to be sworn in at 11 a.m. today, but bad weather forced his plane to land at Chicago on a flight from the west coast.

There is plenty of work ahead for Marshall, including preparation for the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference at Moscow in March on the German and Austrian peace settlements. The U.S. delegation will leave in about a month for the Soviet capital.

Urge New National Maritime Policy

TORONTO (CP) — Demands for a national maritime policy from the Dominion government highlighted the three-day convention of the National Association of Marine Engineers (T.C.L.), which concluded here Saturday.

Dennis Heard of Vancouver, newly-elected president of the association, said a genuine maritime policy was Canada's only guarantee of having a postwar merchant navy.

"A merchant navy is the only guarantee we will have our own foreign trade, and won't be discriminated against by foreign shipping interests, as in the past," he said.

An effort to organizze marine engineers on the Great Lakes will be made by the association because "on the lakes the engineers are at present at the mercy of the operators, no matter how long has been their service with the company," Mr. Heard stated.

Gallup Poll

Australia Opposes Govt. Ownership Of Mines, Banks, Gas

From Australian Institute of Public Opinion

Public opinion in Australia still opposes government ownership of utilities, according to latest results from the Canadian Institute's affiliate in the Commonwealth. In recent surveys, Australians have voted down government ownership of coal mines, banks, gas companies and airlines.

Actual questions, as polled, with results are as follows:

"Do you favor government or private ownership of coal mines?" Private 42%, government 39%, undecided 19%.

"Do you favor government or private ownership of the trading banks?" Private 50%, government 32%, undecided 18%.

[illegible] gas companies?" Private 46%, government 37%, undecided 17%.

Even the government operation of Trans-Australia Airlines, in competition with private airlines, is opposed by a majority:

"Do you thing the federal government should or should not run commercial planes in competition with the present airlines?" Government should not 51%, government should 35%, undecided 14%.

Baby Dies In Fire

SEATTLE (AP) — The combined efforts of a volunteer rescuer and firemen who fought their way into a blazing suburban home early Sunday morning failed to save the life of three-month-old James Rowan. The infant died six hours later of burns received in the residental area fire that sent two other members of the family to hospital.

Question Salesman In Slaying Of Movie Hopeful

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A red-haired salesman today was booked on suspicion in the bloody mutilation slaying of attractive Elizabeth Short, 22-year-old Hollywood hopeful.

But Capt. Jack Donahoe of the police homicide bureau, wearily winding up hours of questioning, announced:

"Most of the evidence seems to be on Manley's side."

Robert Manley, 25, was taken into custody Sunday night as he returned from a trip to San Francisco. Grilled for hours by detectives working in relays, he finally fell asleep answering questions.

Earlier, however, he had willingly submitted to a lie detector test, Donahoe said, classifying its results as "confused."

[illegible]

No bloodstains were found in Manley's car. (Police earlier had determined that Miss Short's body, being butchered, was washed and hauled to the vacant lot where it was found.)

His alibi for the time she died, early last Wednesday, "Is a family affair" but "does not appear to have been put together." Manley said he was at home asleep. He has a wife and a four-month's-old baby.

The officer added:

Manley acknowledged meeting Miss Short in San Diego two weeks before Christmas; sending her a telegram that he would see her again Jan. 8; meeting her and driving with her to Los Angeles, after a stop at a Pacific Beach tourist cabin. Donahoe said Manley's detention was the result of a check of licence numbers taken by the manager of the cabins.

Miss Short's body, severed and otherwise gashed, was found in a vacant lot Jan. 15.

Stampede Of Broncs Enlivens Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — Pedestrians were forced to scamper to safety Sunday when 40 unbroken horses brought here by train from western Canada and stampeded and galloped through the city streets. The horses were rounded up later by their handlers, assisted by municipal police, and no casualties were reported as a result of the rampage.

The horses were being taken from the Union Station freight yards here to the Lewis ferry boat for delivery to a Lewis County farm when, frightened by motor vehicles, they suddenly broke loose and were lost in the Lower Town's labyrinth of tiny streets.

Many of the semi-wild steeds galloped up Mountain Hill and, though unshod, went up the icy incline and cantered around the Chateau Frontenac.

Several hours elapsed before the entire herd was collected finally. Some of the animals were corralled at the western limits of the city, two miles away from where they started their wild stampede.

Welsh Evangelist Plans U.S. Tour

LONDON (Reuter) — A dynamic 36-year-old Welsh Evangelist, Thomas B. Rees, plans to leave Britain in April for a six weeks' visit to the United States, where he intends to carry out "Youth for Christ" campaigns.

Rees, who has attracted vast audiences of young people during more than 12 months non-stop campaigning in London, threw up a good job in real estate to devote himself to Evangelism.

He began by preaching in the provinces, then raised $172 to hire the Methodist Central Hall, Westminster, London, for one night to launch his "Youth for Christ" campaign. That was 14 months ago, and ever since he has filled that hall or the still bigger Albert Hall several times a week, enlisting the support of leading churchmen of all Protestant denominations.

A stoutish, clean-shaven man with fair hair, Rees has none of the tricks of the stump orator and no use for mass hysteria, but he has a flair for whipping up enthusiasm among crowds, and can dominate the biggest audience with his fiery Welsh personality.

Between his big meetings, Rees conducts revivalist campaigns in London's outskirts and organizes his squads of "contact groups" to keep in touch with his youthful followers, estimated at 100,000.

Fear 431 Lost As Greek Ship Strikes Mine

ATHENS (AP)—The horrors of a shattering explosion and panic aboard the 1,800-ton Greek steamship Chimarra were officially reported today to have left 431 persons missing and believed dead in the chill waters of the Gulf of Petalion, some 20 miles east of Athens.

The explosion, which occurred Sunday, was officially blamed on a mine. The vessel sailed from Salonika Saturday.

The merchant marine ministry announced the total of 431 persons missing in reporting that revised figures showed 550 passengers and a crew of 87 were aboard. The ministry listed 206 survivors.

Officials of the ministry, which said the former German passenger ship had struck a mine, declined to comment on a report that the vessel was a victim of sabotage. There was no indication, however, that they gave any credence to the report.

Aristides Mytakis, 44-year-old school teacher who survived the disaster, estimated almost 200 of the casualties were women and children.

"I am afraid every child aboard was lost and 95 per cent of the women," he said.

2 LIFEBOATS LAUNCHED

Mytakis said the ship sank so quickly only two of her lifeboats could be launched. He described the vessel's decks as a "solid wall of cursing, fighting men" struggling frantically to save their lives.

The explosion at 4 a.m. tore off the port bow and knocked out the electric power supply, negating efforts to send SOS calls. Moonless darkness added to the confusion.

The mine presumably had eluded sweepers since the war. Mines off the coast of adjoining Albania damaged two British destroyers and killed 44 sailors last October, provoking a British complaint to the United Nations Security Council.

The Chimarra, formerly the German ship Herta which was awarded to Greece after the war, sailed from Salonika Saturday morning for the Athens port of Piraeus and struck the mine a few miles offshore from Rafina, 20 miles due east of Athens on the opposite side of the coast of the Attica Peninsula.

Swarms of humans tried to force their way to the deck as the ship listed heavily to port immediately after the blast. Survivors among the first 38 reaching Athens late Sunday said the ship had been packed "like sardines." They told of screams of horror from men, women and children while the ship lurched crazily before plunging downward.

COLD KILLS MANY

Scores plunged into the frigid waters; others were trapped below deck. The cold and exposure apparently killed many and a heavy wind from shore drove back some trying to reach land.

Wireless Operator George Freris, 36, said he and the captain and first and second mates were the last on deck to leave the sinking ship, so far as he knew, in the "selfish" panic, heightened by the burning oil below.

"We swam for several hours before we managed to get a hold on some barrels," the radio operator recalled. "This helped save our lives."

Some 40 political deportees were aboard, en route to an island exile. Also aboard were a number of gendarmes who had escorted Prince Paul on his trip through turbulent Macedonia.

Freris said the captain tried, without success, to restore order after the explosion. He said there were lifebelts for all.

Premier Of Italy Resigns To Clear Up Tangles

ROME (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government resigned today. President Enrico de Nirola accepted the resignation, but immediately scheduled a conference with De Gasperi tomorrow in the first of the consultations that will lead to a new government. De Gasperi generally was expected to be asked to resume the premiership.

In a prepared statement earlier, de Gasperi said that, for "the good of the country," it was time for clarification of present political difficulties in Italy.

His Christian Democratic Party leadership has been challenged constantly from the extreme left, although the Leftists have continued in his cabinet.

High Court Trial Asked By Chinese In $24,000 Theft

Trial by higher court was requested by Chow Dong Gin when he appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today on a charge of stealing $24,000 in cash from Peter Rapanos, proprietor of the Olympia Cafe, 752 Yates Street.

The 34-year-old Chinese who spoke through an interpreter, was brought to Victoria today from Vancouver by Detective Louis Callon. He was arrested a week ago in Peterborough, Ont., by George Kitson, Vancouver detective, who brought him to the coast.

Chin was traced to Hamilton, Ont.; and then to Peterborough, police said, after he left Victoria last August after being employed as a pastry cook in the Olympia Cafe.

The theft of $24,000 is alleged to have occurred between July 3 and July 15 of last year. The money is supposed to have been taken from a crockery jar in the basement of the cafe.

The Chinese was remanded until Wednesday when a date for his preliminary hearing on the charge will be set.

Shoes, Restaurant Meals, Used Autos All Cost More

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs jumped ahead today, particularly for Canadians who eat in restaurants, as ceiling boosts on three important items became effective.

Restaurant prices were advanced in Toronto, Montreal reported they would be increased in the next couple of days, and reports from other centres said price boosts were pending. Some eastern cities also reported higher prices on used cars, but shoe dealers made no change except where new stock was brought to display counters.

The increases, announced by the Price Board Sunday night, were:

1. A 10-per-cent increase in prices of restaurant meals containing meat, poultry, eggs or fish.

2. Used automobiles and used trucks increased by 10 and 7 per cent, respectively.

3. Increases of 11 and 9 per cent, respectively, in prices of men's and women's shoes.

Restaurant prices will apply also to sandwiches containing hot cooked meat, poultry or eggs, which may be raised by five cents. Meals costing 50 cents Sunday may be raised to 55 cents, while a 10 per cent increase will apply on meals between 50 cents and $1. The increase is limited to 10 cents on servings costing more than $1.

A rise of 16¢ per cent in the food index brought about the new adjustments, Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman, said in a statement.

The board's announcement concerning leather forecast a whole series of related increases, to be announced shortly, on all leather goods, such as purses, gloves, leather clothing and harness.

Reason behind the increases was an adjustment in the ceiling on cattle hides of three cents a pound, with corresponding increases for other types of hides.

Raising of the ceiling prices on men's and women's shoes in today's Ottawa order, was regarded by local retailers as an insurance of better supplies of footwear in 1947 in comparison to the supplies received during the last few years.

Present stocks of shoes will not be affected by the new order, according to one retailer. "The new prices will be effective when we get new orders from the source of supply," he said.

He said that while manufacturers have been going full blast on production for some time, the reason for the low supply on the domestic market was due to the heavy export to the United States where better prices were offered.

"We are on the same quota for spring wear as last fall, which is small," he said. Manufacturers were way behind in their orders and it was believed that it would not be until July that they would be able to fill back orders.

NO CAR DECISIONS

Car dealers and leather goods dealers had no information today on the ceiling price lifting on used cars and footwear.

Restaurant proprietors will decide by tomorrow on what course of action will be pursued in Victoria with regard to an increase in the price of restaurant meals, it was learned today.

Most proprietors said there was little doubt but that the prices of meals would be raised as authorized by the federal government, because they have been complaining for a long period that they could not make expenses on present meal prices, with the increase in food costs.

City Harbor Delegation To Meet Transport Minister

Ald. F. N. Cabeldu and Ald. D. D. McTavish, members of the city's harbor committee, together with an unnamed representative of the Chamber of Commerce are making plans to meet Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier in Vancouver either Wednesday or Thursday to discuss Victoria's harbor problems with him.

Before leaving Ottawa Sunday for the Pacific Coast the federal minister intimated he would be glad to discuss general development problems of Victoria harbor with a Victoria delegation if one could meet him in Vancouver.

As he can only spend Wednesday and part of Thursday on the west coast he cannot get to Victoria, and will return to Ottawa by air.

Victoria harbor problems are known to have been receiving close study in recent months from the Transport Minister, a dispatch from Ottawa stated, and it is believed that Mr. Chevrier might have considerable information to give a Victoria delegation.

Mayor Percy George gave instructions today to have Mr. Chevrier contacted by telegram on the train to make the appointment for the delegation. Ald. W. L. Morgan, chairman of the city harbor committee, is out of the city and will be unable to meet the Minister of Transport.

H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that it was excellent news that Mr. Chevrier would meet the Victoria delegation and that he would see about naming a representative from the harbor committee to join the City Council delegation immediately.

Mr. Chevrier is accompanied by R. K. Smith, chairman of the National Harbors Board, B. J. Roberts and S. E. St.-Laurent, members of the board. He will address the Vancouver Board of Trade and inspect harbors in the mainland city.

TIME OUT

IT IS NOT SURPRISING THAT THE United States should, to use the vernacular of sport, seek time out at this juncture in its major activities in the field of international affairs. Today retiring Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has marked his withdrawal from the office to which he has added lustre by signing peace treaties with four Axis satellites. He steps aside to make way for a man of unique qualifications in General of the Army George C. Marshall. None, however, would suggest that the designated successor can assume his new role and master all the ramifications of developing United States foreign policy without intensive preparation for the job which faces him. As one Washington correspondent puts it: "No laggard student plugging for final examinations ever faced a stiffer assignment" than does the distinguished soldier and international figure who is assuming the burden Mr. Byrnes was forced, for reasons of health, to relinquish.

This does not imply that Gen. Marshall has anything in his make-up of the laggard student. His proven capacities reflect a character that is quite the reverse. The fair-minded, however, will see the futility of seeking to continue American policy without some delay while the new leader familiarizes himself with the highways and by-ways he must now follow.

The present position of the United States in world affairs and the vital nature of decisions to be reached make it imperative that no slips be made in the policies formed to meet the problems of the day. The tasks ahead are not merely incidents of a winding-up procedure to events which have passed. They are integral processes in the laying of foundation stones for a future in which hopes rest for the preservation of peace, the establishment of universal security and the realization of principles that can eliminate the gruesome miscalculations of former generations. Snap judgments will not suffice in this instance.

A slow-down seems inevitable. That, however, should cause disappointment to few who realize the magnitude of the work ahead. Under any circumstances the re-making of the world to assure survival in an atomic age could not be accomplished overnight. And none will begrudge the use of time expended in careful avoidance of those errors which have previously frustrated the efforts of men of good will and transformed their highest aspirations into mere pious hopes. For all nations and all mankind the ensuing time of preparation will be well spent. Without it, haste might not only breed delay but mistakes of fatal consequence.

DANGERS IN SENSATIONALISM

FOR ALL PEOPLE CONNECTED WITH the production of newspapers and for everyone who reads them, Raymond Rubicam has something of vital importance to say in January's issue of McCall's magazine. Under the heading "Wife Kills Husband With Rubber Knife," this student of human reactions to the printed word analyzes the results of over-sensationalism in distorting public opinion. His message, addressed principally to citizens of the United States but applicable anywhere, is a challenge to snap judgments and a plea for reasoned interpretation of the news as it comes from all sources of the world.

Mr. Rubicam is fully aware of the reader appeal injected into the news by color writing and action words. He knows the means by which big headlines are applied to stimulate street sales. And while his conclusions are neither flattering to many who write scareheads nor those who accept their impressions from them, his purpose is essentially honest and constructive.

In his magazine article, Mr. Rubicam pays special attention to headlines. He uses samples from American papers which have played up the "shooting war" element in certain developments between the United States and Russia to create interest, to satisfy the appetite for excitement on the part of readers. He cites such headlines as "Yank-Red Clash In Berlin" and "Reds, G.I.'s Draw Guns In Reich" to illustrate the manner in which minor incidents are given major build-ups which inflame public passions and create animosities which are not justified. He lists "Gromyko Turns Guns On Yanks In China" to indicate the manner in which verbal disputes are dramatized to a point where their significance is vastly over-rated. Similarly, on the domestic scene, he quotes "Warships Ready To Run Strike Blockade" as the heading on an item largely conjectural in which the substance of the big type was not merited by the ensuing article.

Most readers, of course, appreciate the technical limitations under which headlines are written. They must be a supreme expression of condensation, carrying the subject of the story in a way to stimulate interest. But, as Mr. Rubicam points out, such legitimate procedures do not justify magnification of minor issues into crises. When they are so treated the distortion creates the dangerous tendency to lead public opinion to biased thinking and the improper generation of dislikes for the villains of the piece who might, in fact, be innocent. The writer sums up his case concisely in the statement:

"Dependence on reported news for information and guidance in decision making has leaped to a new high, and the reorganization of the world which is presently and painfully emerging will not permit it to lessen. A large part of the hope of the world for peace and for the survival of the personal freedoms is bound up not only with the existence but with the performance of a free press.

"If that symbol of transformation, the atomic bomb, means that this is a new life with appallingly more to grasp about the actions of our fellow human beings and to manage in company with them, it also means that journalism is a new profession carrying a heavy part of the responsibility for the job. If the standards of average human beings have to be raised, the standards of many newspapers have to be raised. In their role as reflectors of the people they must reflect more of the need for facts and less of the weakness for excitement."

In this community, the reading public is largely alive to that sentiment. It wants its news presented in a lively, fresh and accurate manner. It has little appetite for sensationalism. And because of its generally sound sense of values, it assists its newspapers in their efforts to shoulder the responsibility which Mr. Rubicam emphasizes.

A SIMILAR CASE

IN AT LEAST ONE PARTICULAR, VANcouver's current police reorganization will be of specific interest to this community. It concerns the reported desire of Mayor G. G. McGeer to establish on the lower mainland a metropolitan system which will bring all forces in Vancouver and contiguous municipalities into closest possible co-ordination in the fight against crime. In broad principle, the scheme will find generous support in Greater Victoria. Integration of police work here has been a matter of public concern for many years. It is gratifying to read in the annual reports of chief constables that a high degree of co-operation has been achieved between the city force and those of surrounding districts—a tribute which also embraces the British Columbia Provincial Police. It seems obvious, however, that closest concert can only be achieved under unified direction.

As the situation exists in Greater Victoria at present, united action on a specific case can be taken only after decision has been reached by the different chiefs controlling the various departments. That does not appear to be conducive to swift and efficient operation. Under a single administration, direction could be given without delay and without question from subordinates in any one of the district departments who are now responsible to their own particular chiefs.

The purpose of all forces is, in the main, identical: the suppression of crime and the preservation of law and order. In the exercise of their duties, officers in the separate municipalities have disclosed a high degree of team work—a characteristic emphasized with the expansion of two-way radio service last year. Yet, with all the good will in the world, there still exists the possibility of indecision when decision is vital. And none questions the desirability of speed in the apprehension of wrong-doers.

The Greater Victoria case differs, in several particulars from that suggested for the lower mainland. In a general sense, however, the argument for closer consolidation is the same. It is a question which should carry more weight than consideration of any personalities who may be involved. Under amalgamation there should be room for all at present employed without serious demotion in any specific instance.

TOO SIMPLE?

WE CONTINUE TO ENJOY VARIATIONS of the ludicrous story of the rapid calculator who, asked how many cattle were in a specific pasture, counted the number of the animal's legs and divided by four to find the answer. Similarly we have hidden a smile when an Englishman, fresh from Britain, has asked our weight and we have watched him convert the pounds we admitted into stones. In both cases, of course, mild humor arises from the difficulties each gave himself in order to arrive at an appreciation of measurement in terms he understood.

Point is given to this trivia by the announcement from Paris that the "Decimal Association" is once again active in England with a campaign to have Britain adopt the decimal system. In Canada, its value has been proved time and again through the simplification it has brought to monetary calculations. It is unfortunate, however, that this country has been unable to expand this great simplicity into other realms of measurement. We still teach our children laboriously the relationships between inches, feet, yards, rods and miles, the equivalent complex units of square measure and weight. Even in the matter of temperature, we appear to approve the more complex Fahrenheit readings to the centigrade. For all the fun we poke at the weight and monetary systems of Britain, we still like to "do it the hard way" in most of our other systems of measurement.

NOTES

Note on education: Every flower was a wild weed before somebody took the trouble to develop it.

See the man who is mean to the lowly? He is trying to make people forget he used to be one of them.

"Civilized man hasn't domesticated a single animal." For that matter he hasn't yet done a complete job on man.

Walter Lippmann

BEGINNING WITH GERMANY

AS THE CONFERENCE on Germany and Austria begins in London, it appears that there is something very near to agreement among the European states which are the neighbors of Germany. This is most encouraging. For without their willing consent and active participation a settlement made by the three big non-European powers would have to be imposed not only on Germany but on Europe. An imposed settlement could hardly work well. Nor would it last very long.

For this reason it is not only the right of France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark, Poland and Czechoslovakia to be heard and to be listened to. It is necessary to the success of the settlement that they be treated as principals in making it. They are in the first line, and the proper role of the Big Three is to promote, improve, sponsor and guarantee a European settlement which can be agreed upon by Europeans.

THE MEMORANDUM of the Netherlands states the German problem and indicates the principle on which a solution will have to be sought. The problem which has to be solved is that "on the one hand, the economic recovery of Germany is a prerequisite for the economic recovery of Europe and for a healthy world economy. On the other, the economic recovery of Germany implies the increase of Germany's war potential."

The western neighbors of Germany, as well as Czechoslovakia, and, if free to choose Poland also, would certainly agree on the principle of the Netherlands memorandum—that the best hope lies in a high degree of decentralization of Germany—accompanied by "the deconcentration of economic power." German industry and German manpower are a war potential if they can be regimented and administered as a unit by a central government.

TO INSIST ON THE economic unification of Germany under a Berlin government before the political decentralization has been accomplished, and the great cartels broken up, would be an irreparable mistake. All the European countries take that view, and, if the United States adheres to her own convictions, she must take the same view. For what the Europeans want is the kind of Germany which Americans have started to establish in their own zone.

To unify and reconstruct Germany and then to start decentralizing her is impossible. Germany can be decentralized only while she lacks a strong central government. Once she has a strong central government, the Germans who run that government will be able and will be determined to deny effective authority to the separate states. Once the eggs have been scrambled in Berlin, they will never again be unscrambled.

THIS, IN ESSENCE, has been the French thesis from the beginning, and it may now be said that it is the European thesis. Each of the European countries, France included, has its special claims upon Germany. They will have to be mediated and reconciled. But overriding the special claims there is now a common conception of the kind of Germany which can be brought into a European community. It is a Germany which cannot act as one powerful and dominating state in the heart of Europe, but is instead a confederation of German states, each sufficiently autonomous to form connections with its neighboring countries.

Thus instead of a firmly united Germany in the midst of a disunited Europe, the way would be opened toward a united Europe, in which the several German states, none in itself very strong, would play their equal parts.

TOO MUCH UNITY for Germany will not only prevent the unification of Europe; it will dangerously divide the Big Three. For a united and centralized Germany will in the course of a few years, perhaps ten, be again the leading power on the Continent. Russia, Britain and America will bid against each other for her support, lest she throw her weight, which would be considerable and perhaps decisive, against them.

This will make certain the revival of pan-Germanism, subsidized and patronized by the great powers bidding against each other. The German democracy, a tender thing at best, would be trampled out.

In Moscow, London and, in Washington there are influential men who are deeply tempted by the idea that a strong, united Germany can be made a dependable ally. This is the most dangerous of all illusions.

HISTORIC EXPERIENCE and the logic of the present situation alike tell us that if and when Germany were united and reconstructed as the strongest power on the Continent, her first alliance would have to be with Russia. For her first object will be to recover the lost provinces in the east. Germany will not be strong enough to reconquer them by war. But Germany may well be a sufficiently valuable ally of Russia to recover them by a diplomatic bargain—on the lines of the Ribbentrop-Molotov pact—at the expense of Poland.

As long as Germany is dismembered in the east, a deal with Russia is bound to have greater attractions than any deal that the West could make with Germany. That is the reason why M. Molotov's stand against the decentralization of Germany has been so ominous. That is why deep decentralization of Germany is the first and fundamental condition of a world as well as of a European, settlement.

For a centralized Germany can upset, whereas a decentralized Germany will help to maintain, the balance of power.

Nothing A Little Exercise Won't Cure

Two Happy Days

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THERE ARE only two happy days for a man in public life," said James Francis Byrnes the evening after his resignation as Secretary of State. "The first is the day he is elected. Then it's pressures, criticisms and hard work until that second happy day—the day he quits."

Mr. Byrnes, by his own testimony, has been a profoundly unhappy man. He has spent 30 of the past 36 years in public life as an elected or appointed official. And now his friends are said to be predicting that, after a much-needed rest, he will run for the Senate again in 1948.

No doubt Mr. Byrnes meant what he said at the time. He had put in an arduous year and a half of strenuous travel and activity, of wearying, nerve-wracking negotiations whose results were of an importance that scarcely could be overemphasized. He was ill, and happy to be free of the even more delicate and fateful negotiations that lie ahead.

STILL, IT wouldn't be surprising to see Mr. Byrnes back in there next year. The war horse is notoriously unwilling to be pastured next to the field of battle. To Mr. Byrnes and to many excellent public servants like him, the satisfactions of public life outweigh its rigors. The satisfactions may come from a sense of duty fulfilled, or from the fascination of an intricate game, or the excitement of public attention. But whatever the reason, those who have chosen public service as a profession have a way of staying with it as long as they can keep going.

Probably in no one is that sense of satisfaction stronger than in those who have held their country's highest office. Although Franklin D. Roosevelt was the only one of them who departed from the two-term tradition, it is unlikely that many of his predecessors left the White House without regrets.

THE ACCUMULATED evidence of those who have been close to other occupants of the Executive Mansion indicates that almost all of them have given up their high honor reluctantly. Even such impassive men as Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover are said to have enjoyed being President. It would be unnatural if all of them had not been conscious of the importance that reflected upon them from their important position.

But the fact remains that the tradition of two-term tenure in this enjoyable job has been broken. Broken traditions don't mend themselves. So the new Republican Congress proposes to bolster tradition with legislation which would forbid any one man's residence in the White House for more than two terms.

THERE IS an excellent chance of this legislation's being [illegible] thing. For a wise law should protect the public against the most unhappy and perilous eventuality in the province which it covers.

So long as there exists the possibility that this country might one day arrive at a period of chaos or extreme discontent in which a dangerously ambitious man might see his opportunity, there exists a need of limiting the number of times that one man can hold the office of President.

Or, if you prefer to string along with Mr. Byrnes, you might say that the proposed law is designed to limit the unhappiness of our highest officer to eight years minus two days.

Who Speaks Of Justice?

By R. J. DEACHMAN

MR. ELMORE PHILPOTT is a left wing Vancouver journalist, who sees most things from the standpoint of labor, deems the Socialist to be the noblest work of God and feels, as perhaps few newspaper men feel, that if he had an opportunity he could mold the world more nearly to the heart's desire—his heart.

Well, what is wrong with that? Nothing. Idealists are necessary, even if their ideals clash with reality. Here is his statement. I take issue against it:

"So long as there is one shivering child in Europe dying of tuberculosis because there is no fuel in the house we cannot talk of a wool surplus . . . it is an insult to talk of holding up prices. Let them come down where they belong."

During the war Britain took over the entire wool crop of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa. Sales during the past year were 2,500 million pounds, twice the yearly clip of the three great wool growing nations. The United States, United Kingdom and Canada alone absorbed an amount equal to the current clip.

WHICH is the wiser course? Should present stores have been dumped on the market regardless of price or should they be liquidated over a period of time, in orderly fashion. If Mr. Philpott answers "yes", then he must say that when we were carrying vast stores of wheat in Canada we should have sold it regardless of price if one poor child in Italy, Spain or Greece was starving for bread.

What would have been the result of that policy on wheat then and wool now? We would for a time have increased greatly the consumption of wheat. The big surplus would have been dissipated. It would not have been available for postwar needs. We might have been short during the war. The dumping of war supplies would have ruined the wool growers and the crash would have been felt in every agricultural country of the world. We might have had a repetition of 1932-33. Mr. Philpott's proposal, if generally applied, would upset world economy, causing far greater human suffering than the course now followed.

WHY IS MR. PHILPOTT in favor of high prices for coal, low prices for wool? A grower of wool is as important a factor in world economy as is a member of any other group. Personally I want competitive markets and lower prices because that is the only means through which the standard of living can be raised, but if we want lower prices we must be willing to have them. They must come from a definite policy and not from random action, born of emotions.

If by superior technical knowledge we lower the cost of production the result should be expressed in price reductions but we cannot have one section of the community forcing higher and higher rewards for its own activities while throwing wide the bars, doing everything possible to lower the price of the commodities they buy. We have had too much of this. The life of that little child dying of tuberculosis is important but we do not save her by thoughtlessly striking a blow at the economy of the whole world. All we succeed in doing is in making life more difficult for others.

DO WE SUFFER more in this world from soft hearts or hard heads? I do not know. Both are responsible for much pain and suffering. The world perhaps needs less of both for reason is normally a better guide than emotion.

Lamb Home For Sale

Canadian Press from London

THE 300-YEAR-OLD cottage in which Charles Lamb spent his last years is to be sold.

Miss Jessie Smith, who bought the cottage when she retired from business "because I had no desire to be alone and knew I should have lots of visitors," is going to sell.

Standing well back from the rush and roar that has come to Church Street, Edmonton, the cottage still has its quiet garden, onto which Lamb looked from the window seat at which he wrote his last essays.

SOME OF THE furnishings belonged to Charles and Mary Lamb. Legend says the dark oak cupboard in the dining-room is where Mary Lamb hid when she felt one of her attacks of insanity coming.

We'd all like to give useful gifts—things people really need—but where in thunder can you find a house?

CLIPPED at RANDOM

SELF-STYLED GAMBLER

Washington Post

A good many faces must have been red with anger when a customer's man employed by a Wall Street brokerage firm escaped jury service in the football fix case by declaring that he, too, was in the gambling business; therefore, "might be a little prejudiced." Perhaps he was trying to be funny or he may have been merely intent on escaping jury service—at any rate, the Stock Exchange has canceled his registration, he has lost his job and forfeited his chances of re-employment with other firms. They figure that the customer's man who is unable to distinguish between stock market operations, however speculative, and gambling is obviously too ill-informed to be trusted.

The sponsored program is a phenomenon of the radio industry for which no individual or set of individuals deserves credit or blame. At any rate, the burden of proving that radio can support itself by other means rests upon those who condem the whole practice out of hand.

AN INCONGRUITY

London (Ont.) Free Press

It does seem a little ironical to us at least, that Camillien Houde, mayor of Montreal, first citizen of the French-Canadian metropolis, the man who told his fellow citizens not to obey the law calling for national conscription—and went to prison for it—should now be the first person in Quebec to be honored with our new Canadian citizenship.

"We felt that another bond issue hasn't a ghost of a chance the way things have been bungled already," the officer said.

The commission is currently working out details of a $20,000,000 bond issue which Mayor Roger Lapham hopes will put the railway system back on its feet.

SALADS IN CELLOPHANE

Australian News Letter

Salads in cellophane are the latest innovation for Sydney, Australia, housewives. The Vegetable Growers' Ass'n., of New South Wales has made plans to transport all types of vegetables, snap-frozen, wrapped in cellophane, packed in cartons, direct to county centres by refrigerated road or rail trucks. The scheme is for a continuous supply throughout the year, and is planned to cut out middlemen and give the public fresher fruit and vegetables.

Watching A Tide

Canadian Press from Pretoria

SIGNIFICANT trends are revealed in a government report on employment in secondary industry, mining and transportation in South Africa over the last 20 years. The figures emphasize the increasing "invasion" of the non-European in these spheres.

Taking European employment in private industry alone, this has increased by only one-third in the last decade, while, in the same period, non-European employment has doubled itself. In 1925 there were 29 European men in every 100 persons in industry. Now the ratio has dwindled to 22 per 100.

EUROPEAN WOMEN still predominate in factories, though in the last few years they have only increased from 23,800 to 32,000, while the number of non-European women has grown from 8,700 to 21,250. In the clothing factories — the chief users of women labor—there has been a labor increase of 100 per cent in the last 10 years, there now being 10,600 Europeans and 8,600 non-Europeans.

In 1935 transportation—which means chiefly the country's railways which are state-owned—employed 54,600 Europeans and 37,000 non-Europeans. Here the white man has not lost ground and, with an aggregate well on the highway to six figures, looks like remaining a formidable pressure group in the economics of the country.

Centennial Choir Elects Officers

Centennial United Church Choir at its annual business meeting thanked its former executive for successfully organizing its many social activities during the year. The secretary's report showed good attendance of the members throughout the year and the treasurer reported a creditable bank balance after purchasing its own music and contributing to the church funds.

Rev. W. R. Ashford gave unstinted praise for the musical part of the service rendered by the choir and personally thanked the conductor, J. W. Buckler and the organist, Miss Hilda Kirkby. The newly elected executive follows, President, Mrs. A. S. J. Butler; vice-president, C. Chillman; treasurer, Mrs. J. Beveridge; librarians, Miss Frances McIver and Miss Hilda Smith; social committee, J. Almond, Miss Myrtle Dent, Mrs. R. Scoble and Mrs. J. R. Jeffery; sick visitors, Mrs. W. C. Williams and Mrs. G. S. Eden; gown stewards, Mrs. F. Leech and D. Pye.

Minor ailments should be given immediate attention. "Mere cold" has grown into such afflictions as sinusitis, bronchitis and pneumonia.

Crawfield, San Carlos, releases her Scottie, "Bonnie," after marketing and seven-year-old Donny Armanacos (right) waits at the stall with the family dog, "Poochy," while his mother shops.

700 Soldiers Look After 1,250-Mile Alaska Road

Seven hundred volunteers from the Canadian Army and a number of civilians of the Dominion, chosen for their knowledge of the job, are carrying out one of the army's biggest assignments in maintaining the northwest highway stretching from Edmonton to the Alaskan border, army headquarters at Ottawa reports.

The task of the boys in khaki is not only to keep the road in repair, but also paving the way to make the 1,250 gravelled miles into what will eventually become an integral part of the highway system of Canada.

The task is not as simple as it might seem. It involves a tremendous amount of work. The hundreds of Canadians are divided into a technical staff, a road maintenance company and maintenance camps distributed over the highway route.

All planning of design and forecasting of stores is the job of the technical staff. The maintenance company is composed of a bridge building platoon and a road construction platoon which carry out work beyond the capabilities of the maintenance crews. Maintenance gangs, each superintended by an officer, is divided into three sections, northern, central and southern.

CAMPS ON TEAM BASIS

Camps in each sector are organized on a team basis and each is in charge of a foreman of works who may, or may not, be a member of the army. Work crews of from five to eight men are stationed at each of these camps with each crew responsible for the grading, minor washouts, culverts, minor ditching, road signs and patroling of 60 to 80 miles of road.

Aided by a small civilian staff, all work connected with the repair and maintenance of the Alaska Highway is the direct responsibility of approximately 300 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Engineers. In addition a small detachment of engineers is handling the repair of all buildings used by the services and for the operation of the power, sewerage and the water plants at Whitehorse and Fort Nelson bases.

Repairs are made to equipment of both the army and air force by men of the R.C.O.C. and the R.C.E.M.E. maintains two workshops for this purpose.

All camps along the highway must be regularly supplied with everything from a pick handle to a quarter of beef and here's where the R.C.A.S.C.'s fast-moving detachment comes into play to guarantee rapid and safe delivery of all supplies.

The service corps boys, working out of supply depots at Dawson Creek, B.C., and Whitehorse, Y.T., not only support the road maintenance crews, but also the R.C.A.F., from Grande Prairie all the way north to Snag, near the Alaskan border. In addition they will operate a two-way freight service which carries mail and heavy freight for the R.C.A.F. landline, maintenance camps and other sites.

The Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps maintains a hospital at Whitehorse where service personnel and dependents get excellent medical care. In the event of an emergency, civilians employed by the system are also admitted.

AND STEADILY MOVING FORWARD

At the first annual meeting of our company our first president made this statement: "The directors are much gratified with the share they have had in extending to many of their fellow subjects the comforting protection of life assurance".

This year, at our one hundredth annual meeting, the substance of our president's remarks was essentially the same as that conveyed in the report of a century ago.

Many thousands of Canadians joined our great family of policyholders in 1946. Business in force, meaning the amount of money which the company has contracted to pay out as life insurance benefits to policyholders or their beneficiaries in the future, now exceeds one billion dollars. This includes more than 100 million dollars of new business, other than annuities, paid for in 1946.

Payments in 1946 amounted to almost 25 million dollars of which more than 62 per cent was paid to living policyholders. To ensure the payment of those amounts which the company has contracted to disburse in the future, the company's assets have increased to nearly 350 million dollars in investments of the highest quality.

Our company, founded 20 years before Canada itself came into being, has progressed consistently with the growth of the Dominion, and we look forward to the next century with the expectation of still greater accomplishments.

Dealers Say Used Car Ceiling Prices Unfair To Owners

The general trend of opinion in automobile sales circles today was that while the predicted increase of 10 per cent on used car ceiling prices would not cure black market dealings, it was certainly a step in the right direction.

Under the current controlled price system, a survey revealed that few cars were passing through dealers, that deals were being negotiated privately with considerable money being passed "under the counter" to defeat the limits set.

It is the feeling among managers of firms, a survey revealed, that the black market activity was encouraged because government ceilings were too low compared to market values.

Most of those questioned figured that ceilings should be lifted better than 10 per cent in order to give the public a better trade-in value.

While one was in favor of complete abolition of the ceilings, believing there would be a follow-up of the 30 to 50 per cent tumble in prices for used cars in the United States after decontrol, another said "I would hate to see controls wiped out completely, because there are so many people wanting used cars today and I think it would result in prices going sky-high."

It was thought that better ceiling prices would result in many more used vehicles being sold through legitimate channels.

One dealer believed that the new 10 per cent increase "will only set a higher level for black market dealings."

Slip Loss Fails To Mar Bergen Anniversary Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dorothy Lamour lost her slip backstage at the broadcast, but otherwise Edgar Bergen's 10th anniversary on the radio was a lavish success.

NBC and the ventriloquist's sponsor threw an $8,000 party Sunday night to celebrate the occasion. Edgar received a $4,000 automobile from his sponsor, and a $1,000 television receiver—with a screen as big as a bathroom window—from the network. With tears in his voice, Bergen told the 350 guests, including Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and Sydney Greenstreet:

"This is the nicest thing that ever happened to me."

"Except for one thing," cracked his dummy, Charlie McCarthy, "The day you found me."

Earlier, Miss Lamour made a guest appearance on Bergen's broadcast, as did his other radio associates of the past decade, Don Ameche, Nelson Eddy and Rudy Vallee. Sensing that her slip was slipping, Dotty with quick presence of mind, stepped behind a curtain and kicked it off just before walking on stage.

Art Students Receive Special Course

W. A. Johns, art teacher at Central Junior High, is shown pointing out some of the special features to be noted in Thoreau MacDonald's painting, "Wild Geese," to Marguerite Fairfull, 13-year-old Grade 8 student of Willows School, and Robin Page, 14-year-old Grade 8 student of Gordon Head School. Marguerite and Robin are two of the talented children who have been picked from all the schools of Greater Victoria for special instruction at Saturday morning art classes. There are 39 children in the class from Grade 6, 7 and 8, Mr. Johns said. Last Saturday was their second lesson and already they have started sketching work. He said they were so keen on the class that it was with difficulty he persuaded them to go home at noon. He plans to take them to the Provincial Museum for sketching, for outside work once the weather gets better, and also to bring in animals to the class to give them instruction in sketching from life. The children will be given instruction in pastels, charcoal, water colors and oils and encouraged to use the medium best suited to their individual talents and choice.

Hope Of Averting Major Coal Strike Put On Ottawa Talks

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP) — Last hope of averting a major stoppage in Maritime coal fields was being placed today in Tuesday's three-way conference of representatives of government, union and company as the full impact of what the effects of a shutdown would be began to impress itself on the minds of residents of the three seaside provinces.

Shifting of the spotlight to Parliament Hill began with the announcement that E. R. Jenkins, president of District 26, United Mine Workers (CIO), and his district board were en route to the capital for the conference with Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. representatives and Labor Minister Mitchell.

Mr. Jenkins left behind a warning that the "major shutdown" in Maritime coal fields would come Jan. 31 if the Ottawa talks failed to result in accession to the union's wage demands. He said Friday all coal operations, "big and small, under contract with the U.M.W. in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick" would be included.

13,000 MEMBERS

Union membership rolls include 13,000 workers in all major collieries of the Maritimes. Miners in the Pictou county district of Westville, largest group outside of the U.M.W., are voting today to decide their affiliation. The 500 Westville miners, members of an independent union, voted in favor of joining the U.M.W. last fall, but the margin of only two votes was considered indecisive and no action was taken.

The wage dispute hinges on the miners' chief demand of an increase of $2.50 above current basic rates of $5.84 a day. Negotiations for renewal of the contract expiring Jan. 31, broke down when [illegible] employers of the 13,000 U.M.W. members countered with an offer of $1 a day conditional on increased production. The union withdrew from the talks, terming the company offer "an inceptive bonus."

Already some observers have begun calculating the effects of a possible shutdown. If a coal production halt should last for any length of time, they see a fold-up of many public utilities in the Maritimes, highly dependent on coal-consuming steam power.

Relief Nearing Embattled Garrison

PARIS (AP) — French troops were reported closing in on the Indo-China town of Hue today in an effort to relieve the isolated and embattled garrison, which has been holding out against repeated attacks by Viet Nam nationalists since Dec. 19.

Launching of the relief operation was announced in a communique which said a French column already had advanced more than 15 miles in the direction of Hue from the naval base of Tourane, about 50 miles southeast of the besieged town, capital of Annam province.

French press dispatches described the situation in Hue as "difficult," with the entire French population gathered in a small triangular area southeast of the citadel under the protection of a French battalion. The small garrison was reported standing off incessant attacks by Viet Nam forces numbering as many as 5,000 men.

Support Of Borstal System Urged

The undersigned, being a person authorized by the Minister of Public Works in writing to exercise the powers vested in the said Minister under Part Two of the "Highway Act," and being of the opinion that all Government-controlled highways in the district are liable to damage by extraordinary traffic thereon, hereby makes the following regulation pursuant to Section 33 of the said Act.

The following load and speed limitations are imposed on all roads within the Alberni, Cowichan-Newcastle and Nanaimo-Islands Electoral Districts.

TRUCKS WITH PNEUMATIC TIRES

Pay loads (i.e. loads carried) not to exceed 50% of the authorized carrying capacity of the truck, speed limited to "15 miles per hour."

PASSENGER VEHICLES

Speed limited to 30 miles per hour.
Vehicles with solid tires prohibited.

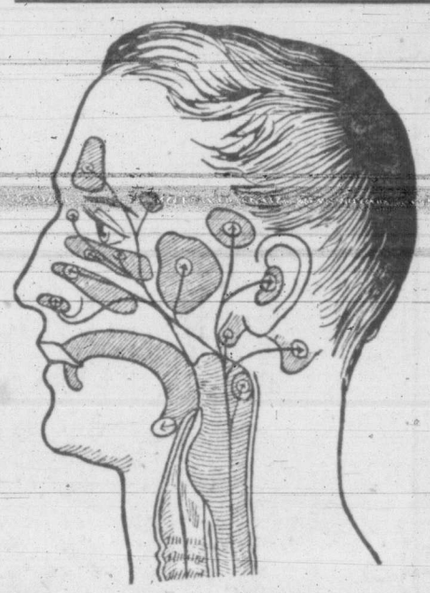
CATARRH & SINUS MISERY DISCOVERY

Duo-Fold Method Attacks Catarrhal Symptoms Promptly Helps Bring Quick Blessed Relief from First Treatment

PAMPHLET SENT FREE



Some of the shaded portions of this diagram show the "air spaces" or sinuses of the head. Catarrh often collects in some of these spaces and the nasal passages and causes the disagreeable Catarrhal symptoms known so well. The entrance to the sinuses often become swollen and congested causing acute misery. Drainage is blocked, and pain and pressure develop. Here is a grand Free Offer that no reader of this paper suffering from the disagreeable, annoying symptoms of Nasal Catarrh and Sinus Congestion can afford to ignore. It may open the pathway to your own prompt and glorious welcome relief from the Catarrhal and Sinus evils you know so well just as it has done and is doing for a host of others who have suffered from

Nasal Catarrh, Clogged Nostrils, Difficult Breathing, Mucus Discharge, Dulled Hearing, Sinus Pain and Nasal Congestion

SATISFACTION OR NO CHARGE

Have you a "Catarrhal" Cough, Clogged Nostrils, Phlegm - Filled Throat? Do you have head noises or buzzing, ringing in your ears? Is your hearing growing dull? Does your nose feel "stuffed up," are you continually obliged to clear your throat? Is breathing through the nose often difficult? Have you frontal headaches? Do you catch cold easily and is there a chronic mucus discharge that makes frequent nose blowing an embarrassing necessity? Have you an offensive catarrhal breath? These are some of the common, easily noted symptoms that may be caused by Nasal Catarrh, so prevalent in this region, and it may pay you to check them carefully.

If any of these symptoms are yours, this notice must surely interest you and cause you to write at once for our FREE PAMPHLET. Medical research has found valuable, palliative virtues for such catarrhal conditions, in a native Chinese Herb called Ma-huang. Treated by Western Chemists, the drug extract of Ma-huang, used in combination with other elements of recognized merit, seems to quickly clear accessible catarrhal accumulations right out of the head, throat, and nasal passages, and reduce congestion bringing a prompt and glorious relief that already has been blessed by thousands. A companion product is a splendid Inhalant which is affording grand relief, too. These Products cannot, as yet, be bought in drug stores, but you can try them yourself at home, without risking one dime of cost unless thoroughly satisfied.

A NEW JOY OF LIVING

Only a sufferer from catarrhal and sinus conditions such as noted above can fully appreciate how great would be the joy if these symptoms were quickly and thoroughly cleared away when they appear. Here is your chance to learn about and try for yourself this highly successful method, on "Satisfaction or No Charge" terms, which makes its trial by any sufferer an easy matter. It costs nothing to find out about it beyond postage on your inquiry, and if you have Catarrh or sinus trouble, by all means write at once to the Heather Company, 21F, 484 McGill St., Montreal, for PAMPHLET with full particulars and directions. It does not obligate you to spend one penny for treatment.

"... second to none for conditioning"

"My English Bulldogs are very enthusiastic about Kellogg's Gro-Pup. I have tried various kinds of dog foods and consider it second to none for conditioning. My Champion, Taunton Brigadier, has kept in fine show condition. In the five shows he entered this past year, he went Best of Breed and Best Non-Sporting five times and three times he won Best Dog in Show."

Why breeders feed Gro-Pup

BREEDERS KNOW it is not safe to try to raise dogs on "table scraps" alone. Dogs must have a properly balanced diet that gives them everything they need for strong bones, sound teeth, and a beautiful coat. That's why breeders feed Gro-Pup.

—feed your dog as famous kennels do...

IT'S A PROPERLY BALANCED DIET to keep dogs of all ages, sizes and breeds at their natural best. It is easily digestible. It contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need for sturdy growth and vigour.

MONEY SAVING! Gro-Pup costs about ½ the price of many other brands of dog food.

ECONOMICAL! A 2-lb. box of Gro-Pup Cubes or meal feeds an average 15-lb. dog a week.

GET IT at grocers or pet shops in cube or meal form.

Dr. George Hall Heads St. Joseph's Medical Staff

Dr. George Hall was elected president at the annual meeting of the medical staff of St. Joseph's Hospital. Rev. Mother Provincial and members of the hospital council were present and the occasion was marked by a complimentary dinner given by the Sisters.

Dr. F. M. Bryant, retiring president, reviewed the work of the medical staff and committees for the year. Several resolutions regarding improvements in medical administration were adopted.

The chairman read a letter from Sister Mary Kathleen, Superior, which made reference to the rapid growth and expansion of the hospital, and which stressed the amicable relations existing between the medical staff and the business administration.

The new executive, in addition to Dr. George Hall, consists of Dr. J. H. Moore, vice-president; Dr. G. F. Aylward, secretary; and Drs. Bryant, H. Robertson and C. R. Salsbury, committee members.

Premier Hart Backs Aims And Objects Of Airpark Association

Premier John Hart today lent his support to the "Memorial Airpark Association of Greater Victoria" which filed a declaration for incorporation under the B.C. Societies Act Saturday.

In a lettter to W. A. Scott, president of the association, Premier Hart said: "I am of the opinion that the objectives are very worthy and deserving of the fullest support."

The objects of the society which is entirely a veterans effort are: To establish and maintain a Greater Victoria Memorial Airpark for the furtherance of Civil Aviation and such other objects in connection with aviation as they shall see fit; to encourage and promote flying and aviation amongst the youth of Greater Victoria as a tribute to the memory of our fallen comrades.

Aims of the association also include the establishing of aviation scholarships for sons of fallen comrades of any branch of the service so that they may become officers in the Royal Canadian Air Force or Fleet Air Arm, or if preferred to take a student course at the University of British Columbia. The pupils to be selected must have shown an aptitude towards aviation or civic enterprise and will be selected by a special committee formed for this purpose. The association will promote a fund in order to train young pupils to obtain an elementary pilot's license.

The first active members of the association will be the Air Force Officer's Association, Victoria Flying Club, Ad Astra Branch of the Canadian Legion, Army Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, Victoria branch, and the Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion.

The group signing the application for incorporation included W. A. Scott, Army Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada; A. W. J. Smith, president of the Air Force Officer's Association; M. I. Hague, secretary, Air Force Officer's Association; F. Marconi, president, Victoria Flying Club; A. J. R. Buller, Canadian Legion; S. Chamut, Ad Astra branch, Canadian Legion; and Mark A. Knis'ey, vice-president, Amputations Association of Canada, Victoria branch.

2 B.C. Men Invent Portable Escapes

Two B.C. men claim they were first to invent portable fire escape apparatus of the type recently given publicity following several fatal hotel fires in parts of Canada and the United States.

They are F. W. Ziegler, 1028 Princess Avenue, a retired captain of the Victoria Fire Department; and a former Vancouver doctor now residing in Edmonton.

Mr. Ziegler says his portable fire escape is as good if not better than any safety devices recently invented; and that he invented and had it patented in 1906.

The apparatus has a steel or cable ribbon wound on a spool and geared by cams to a brake. The brake can be controlled by the person operating it, and is capable of bringing a person, dropping earthward, to a full stop. It is designed to be fastened around any immovable object. By mass production it could be made for $12.

The former Vancouver doctor claims his fire escape which is similar to the other, was the first to be invented.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Poll Causes Blush of Pride

Naturally, a company like Johns-Manville, in business for more than eighty-eight years has tried through quality and service to build a great deal of goodwill.

Even so, there were many Johns-Manville people who blushed with pride recently when a printed page was passed around. You see, it listed the results of a Canada-wide poll which asked this question: "For Building Materials, what company do you think of first as a manufacturer in whom you would have the greatest confidence?" The great majority of people voted in favor of Johns-Manville over any other brand name!

In fact it was two to one in roofing . . . sixteen to one in home insulation . . . and 42 to one in Asbestos Building Materials. Naturally, Johns-Manville is greatly pleased by this public vote of confidence.

HEALTH CONDITIONING by

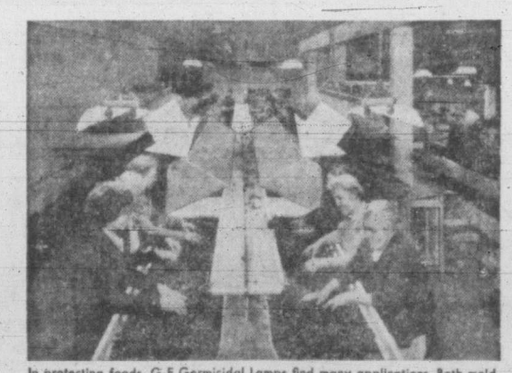
GENERAL ELECTRIC

GERMICIDAL LAMPS

Hospitals are using Germicidal Lamps to disinfect the air in nurseries, surgeries and contagious wards. Many have reported decreases of from 50% to 80% in such infections as colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and influenza.

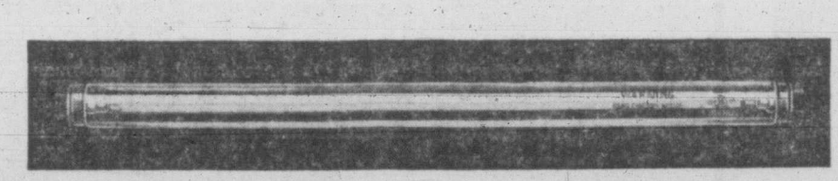


In protecting foods, G-E Germicidal Lamps find many applications. Both mold spores and air-borne contamination are killed by the rays. Here cherries are being irradiated before packing, resulting in great reduction in spoilage.

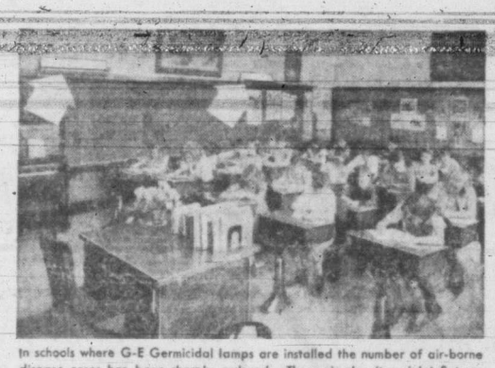
G-E Germicidal Lamps help maintain good health by generating ultra-violet rays indoors to destroy germs. Tests have proved that colds and infections can be cut down by reducing the number of air-borne germs, spores and viruses in a room. Germicidal lamps therefore can contribute greatly to better health by reducing chances of infection in schools, offices, theatres, hospitals . . . wherever people congregate.

In addition these lamps may be used in restaurants to sterilize cutlery and glassware . . . in food and drug-packing plants to prevent growth of mold . . . on the farm to safeguard poultry and animals.

It is not claimed that the use of these lamps will put an end to colds and all types of air-borne infection. However, the likelihood of catching them can be reduced this way. They are easy to install and your nearest CGE office will give you full information.



The G-E Germicidal lamp is a tube of clear glass, in 4 sizes. It should be installed in proper fixtures so its light is not directly visible. Controlled installations under scientific test conditions have already proved marked decreases in respiratory infections in schoolrooms; and reduced contamination in food processing.



In schools where G-E Germicidal lamps are installed the number of air-borne disease cases has been sharply reduced. These simple ultra-violet fixtures improve health conditions wherever they are installed.

In modern restaurants, glasses are made sterile by Germicidal Lamps in storage cabinets. Other installations disinfect the air in dining room and kitchen, and reduce odours by the creation of ozone.

Poultry and stock are being protected by G-E Germicidal Lamps. In one experiment, unprotected chickens had a mortality rate of 2.5%, while protected chicks suffered only .8% mortality and were 14% heavier.

Heirloom Lace Worn By Scottish Bride

The marriage performed by W. W. McPherson Thursday at Oak Bay United Church was the culmination of a romance that began in Scotland during the war, when the groom was serving overseas. The principals are the former Miss Isobel Sutherland Walker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Walker, Glasgow, Scotland, and Harry Oliver Milton Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Fowler, 872 Island Road, Oak Bay.

The bride's gown was made of heirloom embroidered Swiss lace which she brought with her from Scotland, fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves, and full skirt forming a slight train, over the satin under-dress. A gardenia headdress held her chapel veil and she carried a bouquet of red rosebuds.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Hewitt, the groom's sister-in-law, wore turquoise blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Flower-girl was four-year-old Marilyn Hewitt, niece of the groom, gowned in white and carrying a Colonial posy of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Alfred Hewitt-Fowler was best man and ushers were Norman and Richard Fowler.

Terry's Rose Room was the scene of the reception. The young couple cut their three-tier cake and A. J. Jarvie proposed the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler will take up residence at 879 Transit Road, Oak Bay.

Double-Ring Rites For Elsa Norris

Miss Elsa Elizabeth Hart Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Norris, 2595 Central Avenue and Geoffrey Ian Raymond Holyhead, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holyhead, Winton, Bournemouth, Hampshire, England, exchanged marriage vows Saturday at 8. Rev. J. L. McLean performed the double-ring ceremony at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, which was decorated with tall baskets of white chrysanthemums, baskets of daffodils and candlabra.

Miss Thelma Gaetz sang "Because," and C. C. Warren presided at the organ.

An ivory gown of corded silk taffeta featuring off-the-shoulder neckline, fitted bodice and full gathered skirt forming a slight train, was worn by the bride as she entered the church with her father. Her full-length illusion veil misted from a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses and gardenias. She wore a single strand of pearls and gold earrings, the gift of the groom.

A blue gown fashioned with net skirt and a headdress of pink and blue flowers with pink shoulder-length veil was worn by Mrs. M. Davies as matron of honor. Miss Janis Norris was her sister's bridesmaid in a pink and blue gown of silk, with pink and blue flowers and blue shoulder-length veil forming her headdress. They carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Attending the groom was Bert Norris, brother of the bride. Ushers were Morley Davies and Eddie Corbett.

Guests were welcomed at a reception at the Duke of Kent Room at the Empress Hotel, by Mrs. Norris and the bridal party. George McCall of Vancouver proposed the bride's toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Holyhead are spending their honeymoon Up Island. The bride changed to a winter-white wool dress, matching hat, fur coat with ocelot trim and brown accessories. They will return to Victoria to make their home.

National Appeal Made For Nurses

OTTAWA (CP)—The wife of Canada's Governor General, a Federal cabinet minister and the Deputy Labor Minister Saturday appealed for more nurses to ease staff shortages in almost every Canadian hospital.

Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, speaking over the national network of the CBC, called the work "One of the finest and most noble professions in all the world."

"It is a sad and distressing fact that there are not enough nurses for the many tasks for which they are needed," Her Excellency said.

On the same program with Lady Alexander were Revenue Minister McCann and Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor.

Mr. MacNamara estimated total shortages of nursing personnel at 8,500, of which 7,000 were needed for all types of hospital nursing, 1,200 in the private duty field and 500 in public health.

Mr. McCann said the current shortage was due not to a decrease in the number of nurses but to a sharp upswing in the need for nursing service.

Girl Guide Notes

Esquimalt—An open meeting of Robin patrol was held recently under the leadership of Pat Byfield. District Commissioner Stocken and visiting Commissioner Ryan inspected the guides. Games were played and patrols demonstrated second-class tests as follows: Red Rose Patrol under Sue Morgan, Morse code; Lily of the Valley partol, knot tieing; Bluebird patrol, first aid; Robin patrol, guide laws and whistle signals. Commissioners Stocken and Ryan with two members of the local association judged articles for competitive tests. Patrol competitions were won by Bluebird and Lily of the Valley patrols. After taps a short parent-local association meeting was held.

Cathedral—Following a 12-week course of instruction by H. Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: My wife and I have been married 15 years and have two fine children. I am a prosperous business man and give her a very comfortable living—a nice home, a good car, etc. We have always gotten along well together but for no reason that I can understand, she has decided that she no longer loves me. She wants me to give her a divorce and our home and a comfortable income and let her keep the children.

She seems to think that she is doing me a favor by taking the children, whom I adore, and that I should be perfectly contented to pay all the bills and live in some hotel or boarding house. She says she knows I deserve to be treated better, but she has to think of herself and she wants to be happy.

What shall I do?

V. A.

Answer: Your wife evidently expects you to support her in luxury, while she sports around and has a good time unencumbered by a husband of whom she is tired. Tell her that you will make no such an unequal bargain. Advise her that if she leaves you that you will insist on having the children half of the time, and that you will give her only such alimony as the court will award her.

If you could induce her to go away somewhere and live separately from you for a year, she would be glad enough to come back to her good home and comfortable living.

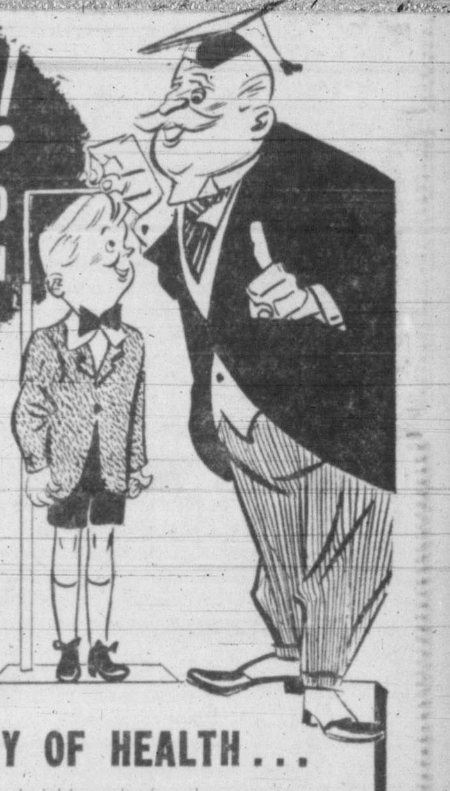
MOTHERS!
READ WHAT MILK DID FOR ENGLISH CHILDREN


Before the war, the British Government commenced a campaign to improve health standards in Britain. Among other things, they conducted tests to prove the food value of milk. The results were so startling that Palm Dairies Limited believes Canadian mothers should know them. They have a direct bearing on the health of Canadian children.

THE BRITISH MINISTRY OF HEALTH . . .
. . . selected at random a group of 100 school children, dividing them into two groups, one receiving a regular basic diet, and the other receiving the same diet with the addition of a pint of milk daily.
GROUP 1
Boys who received only the basic diet gained an average of 3.85 pounds and grew an average of 1.84 inches per boy during 12 months.
GROUP 2
Boys who received the basic diet plus a pint of milk daily gained an average of 6.98 pounds and grew an average of 2.63 inches per boy during the same period.

Action Drama Has China Background

High adventure in the inner fastness of China is the thrilling story background of Sol M. Wurtzel's production "Dangerous Millions," which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. A strong cast featuring Kent Taylor, Dona Drake, Tala Birell, and Leonard Strong is involved in the action-packed drama, which, for excitement and pace, is said to be one of the top adventure films of the year.

Imagine a groupe of fortune-hunters from all parts of the globe converging on a small town in the centre of China, and racing to claim the fortune of an eccentric millionaire. Kent Taylor and Dona Drake, find themselves near death as some of the other adventurers try to eliminate them from sharing in the property.

Paulette Goddard As Chambermaid

There's a scene in "The Diary of a Chambermaid," Paulette Goddard's current starring picture at the York Theatre, in which she scrubs the paraquet floor in the drawing-room of the French chateau.

Paulette and Irene Ryan, who plays a top character role in the film, tried a new wrinkle in scrubbing. The effect was marvelous, according to Director Jean Renoir.

"You scrub like an expert," Renoir commented.

"I am," Paulette retorted. "When I was making 'The Great Dictator' with Charlie Chaplin, there was a scene where I had to scrub. He told me I was doing it all wrong. He then dismissed the company and, to my amazement, kept me busy rehearsing alone for four solid hours until I thought my back would break."

AN EAGLE-LION RELEASE

'Because Of Him' Durbin Comedy

For the first time in his picture career, Charles Laughton will be seen in a modern, dress-up role in Universal's "Because of Him" today at the Rio Theatre.

Laughton has been viewed in so many period or character wardrobes that he will no doubt be a revelation in Broadway street wear for the new film in which he is co-starred with Deanna Durbin and Franchot Tone.

As John Sheridan, the ham actor, in the film's theatrical plot, Laughton is supposed to be eccentric. So his suits, ties, hats and vests carry out the character theme.

Sea Adventure Great Picture

One hundred and sixty-seven days of adventure on the high seas, are compressed into an hour and a half of thrilling screen entertainment in Paramount's picturization of Richard Henry Dana's memorable classic of the sea, "Two Years Before the Mast." The film, the first motion picture adaptation of Dana's novel, is showing tomorrow at the Royal Theatre with Alan Ladd, Brian Donlevy, William Bendix and Barry Fitzgerald starred.

Robinson Starred In 'Larceny Inc.'

Edward G. Robinson's antics on the Atlas screen today in Warner Bros.' newest comedy, "Larceny, Inc.," keeps the audience in a constant state of laughter. In his latest film, Robinson plays the role of a man who is surprised to learn that he can make more money by running a luggage shop than by robbing a bank. And let it be said right here and now, that a finer bit of casting could not be done, Robinson is perfect for the part.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Drama and romance combine in RKO Radio's timely drama "Till the End of Time," now at the Capitol Theatre, starring Dorothy McGuire, Guy Madison, Robert Mitchum and Bill Williams in a story of three honorably discharged marines and their efforts to adapt themselves to civilian life.

Emotional situations arise when the three heroes, finding that nobody really understands them, decide to go their individual ways, proceeding on a trial-and-error basis, with error often predominating. The story of how they finally achieve their respective goals is told with convincing realism and heart-warming humor.

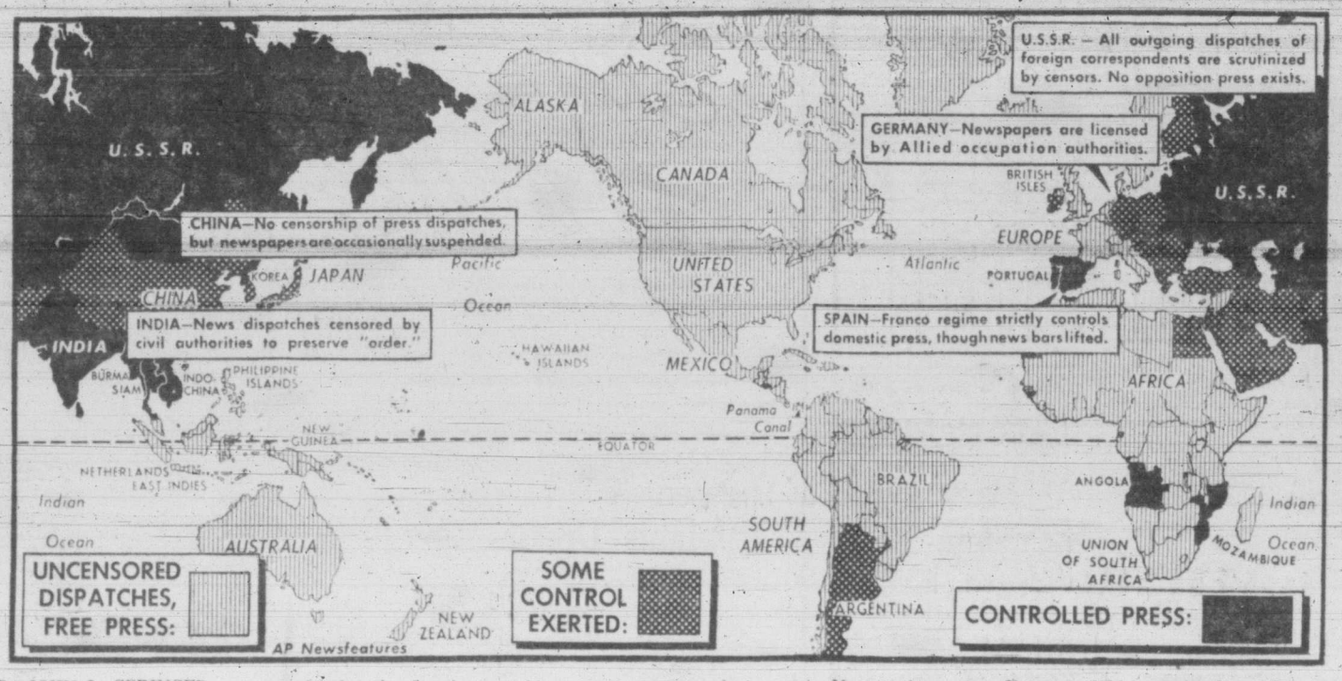
Press Freedom—An Issue For The United Nations



By JOHN L. SPRINGER

Although the United Nations Economic and Social Council is scheduled to set up a world conference this year on the question of freedom of information there still are great areas over which the censor's blanket has been thrown.

As westerners understand the word, freedom for newspapermen to see and report events is greatest in Canada, the United States, Great Britain and countries where Anglo-Saxon influence is greatest. That freedom is limited or non-existent in Russia and countries like Yugoslavia which have thrown in their lot with the Kremlin, and in nations of the extreme right like Franco's Spain and Salazar's Portugal.

PICTURE CHANGES

Actually, the world picture of press freedom is changing constantly. Censors often ease or intensify their pressures in tune with international or domestic questions of the moment, and they might scowl at correspondents for writing today what they readily passed a few months ago. For that reason it is impossible to paint the picture in black and white, except with the most general strokes.

In Spain, for example, foreign correspondents for more than a year were able to write with comparative freedom. Then the government suddenly got tough and saw to it that dispatches "affecting the security of the state" did not get beyond the border. If a newsman becomes too insistent about sending such "offensive" dispatches, the state of course holds the power to expel him.

While Russia insists it has a free press, correspondents are severely restricted there. Foreign newsmen must get most of their information from the government itself, from the government-controlled newspapers or Tass, the government news agency. News stories written for foreign consumption must pass through censors, and—as in Spain—a consistently "unfavorable" writer might find himself in great disfavor. The average Russian, of course, sees only government-approved news.

In other countries in the Soviet orbit similar handicaps exist to a free news flow. In varying degrees in Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Poland and Yugoslavia local newspapers are restricted or controlled by government. Writing "false, sensational reports" for foreign news agencies has resulted in jail sentences for Yugoslavs.

Most of the western European countries have freedom. In France a potential but as yet unused threat exists in the government's authority to suppress a paper which fails to sell 50 per cent of its copies.

Somewhat different conditions prevail in the colonies of free press countries, however. Thus newspapers in French Indo-China are under strict government control and dispatches for the local press in India are still subject to censorship.

Press freedom is the usual thing in North and South America, but there is definite occasional censorship in El Salvador, and Argentina has applied various forms of pressure on papers critical of the administration.

Supply Ship Returns Without Reaching Icebound Village

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que. (CP)—The supply ship North Voyageur and the Dominion government icebreaker Ernest Lapointe prepared to set sail today for their home port of Quebec, following an unsuccessful attempt Sunday to break through the Gulf of St. Lawrence ice and land food and supplies at the tiny village of Port Meunier on Anticosti Island, last stop for the two ships on their 500-mile mercy mission.

The 1,200-ton North Voyageur, following closely behind the Lapointe, plowed to within five miles of Port Meunier, but impassable fields of ice several inches thick forced both ships to turn back.

The captains of the two ships decided it would be too dangerous to make another attempt to break through to the village, which has been without delivery [illegible]

It was believed an airplane operating from the Seven Islands airport would have to be used to drop supplies to the inhabitants.

The two ships have delivered much-needed supplies to 17 other isolated St. Lawrence River Hamlets since they left Quebec two weeks ago. Last stops were at Kegaska, a north shore settlement more than 400 miles below Quebec, and Blanc Sablon, [illegible] which was reached Saturday.

At Kegaska, fisherfolk whose supplies had gone without replenishment for 10 weeks ran out over the ice to greet the Lapointe when it came into sight Friday. Supplies were unloaded on the ice two miles off shore and hauled in by dog sled.

BERLIN—The people of Berlin are getting back some of the shells the Nazis used to wage World War II.

The shells are the empty cases of anti-aircraft ammunition that made things hot for Allied aircraft on missions over Germany. Now these shells are making things warm for Berlin householders, but in a peaceful way, as heating fixtures.

Typical of many Germans who are making a new living by converting scrap of the Nazi war machine into peacetime items, Blacksmith Wilhelm Kersten collects the old shells from all over the Berlin area.

Then in the former village forge of Berlin-Zehlendorf, which has been owned by his family since 1769, he fashions the cases into stovepipes that find a market as fast as he can turn them out.

The four Wu brothers attempt to cultivate their land, after the Japanese had destroyed more than 31,000 water buffaloes.

Starving!

Too weak to cultivate their war-torn fields, these Chinese farmers struggled ten miles to a relief station for a little soft rice.

Uprooted from their farms, women and children of Hunan Province, have been reduced to eating grass and roots.

There are millions like them. Peasant farmers form 83 per cent. of China's population.

Their one hope is the compassion of more fortunate peoples who can send them food, clothing, medical supplies, hospital equipment, NOW.

UNRRA's work is ending. Voluntary agencies must carry on.

Our interest in world welfare, our pity for a good neighbor who will be a good customer in days to come, bid us be generous NOW.

Do it NOW!

He who gives quickly gives twice. Send your cheque or money order TODAY to Canadian Aid for China for IMMEDIATE relief of suffering among Chinese victims of war and famine.

This is the only national appeal to be made in Canada within the next twelve months for Chinese relief.

88 New Members In Veterans' Club

Announcement of an increase in membership of 88, was made at the quarterly meeting of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit, held last week and attended by 200 branch members.

Jack Rivers, secretary, reported on the main features of the last Provincial Command meeting. Resolutions were sent forward calling for an improvement of fish conservation in the interests of fishermen in the province and urging that forest farming schemes similar to those in operation in Europe and Britain be instituted in B.C. and that the system incorporate the recommendations of the Sloan Commission on Forest Conservation.

The secretary said that $2,898 had been paid out from the next-of-kin fund, including contributions to the mainland sick committee which visits Shaughnessy and Provincial Hospitals.

Near completion are improvements to the club quarters, including an air-conditioning system on the third floor and the installation of a public address system.

Mr. Rivers reported that Christmas and New Year billiard, snooker, cribbage and bridge tournaments were near completion and that new entry lists were being drawn up for spring handicaps.

No Federal Election Until 1950 Foreseen

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — Opinion that there would probably be no federal election until 1950 was expressed here by W. Ross Macdonald, Liberal member of Parliament for Brantford City and deputy Speaker of the House of Commns.

He told the annual meeting of the Brantford Liberal Association "we have an over-all majority of nine" in the present Parliament.

Hughes Cleaver, Liberal M.P. for Halton, said an old age pension of $30 per month to every Canadian was being considered by the federal government.

ESKIMO NEWLYWEDS SEE GOOD FORTUNE IN ONE-HORNED REINDEER

Some years ago an Arctic explorer reached an Eskimo village, and was welcomed as a visitor in one of the huts.

Feeling too warm inside the cosy hut, he decided to take off his outer garments. It was the same as taking off an overcoat in our part of the world, but had a furry covering which was rather hard to get off. So he turned to a young Eskimo woman and asked her to help him.

The young woman was pleased to help, and the white man felt more comfortable — until the girl's mother started to talk to him. The old Eskimo woman told him, in substance, that he had proposed marriage to her daughter. By asking the girl to help him take off his outer garments, he had, in effect, asked her to become his wife!

The explorer could speak some Eskimo words. He said that the idea of marriage never had entered his mind. Yet the mother kept saying that he must marry her daughter. This talk was kept up until the explorer put on his outer garments again (without any help!) and left the village.

That is one example of strange marriage customs among savage or half-savage people of the world. Eskimos have others. An old record has this to say:

"The bride brought along with her a curved knife, or 'oclo,' and a lamp."

There is a belief among Eskimos that a bride and groom should make their first journey together in a sled pulled by reindeer, and, be one-horned.

All reindeers grow horns, or antlers. When these are shed, they usually come off at about the same time, but the antler on one side may stay on the head a day or two longer than the other. If an Eskimo couple can be pulled by two reindeer, each with only one antler, it is supposed to bring good fortune.

When a young woman among the Eskimos is thinking about a husband, she takes special interest in men who are good hunters. She wants to have a mate who is skilful in obtaining game so there will be plenty of food in the household.

The man, on the other hand, looks for a young woman who will be a good housewife. He wants her to keep things as neat as possible inside the hut. At the time of marriage, he gives his bride a present of clothing.

Basketball New Version—Boxingball

Bob Fitzgerald, 11, of Toronto Huskies thinks he is fighting only Detroit Falcon Milt Schoon, 88, but is about to be belted from behind by Bob Dillie, as skyscraper George Pearey moves in to pull latter off. Umpire Lou Eisenstein breaks it up, banishes Fitzgerald and Schoon as Toronto edges Detroit, 52 to 48, in Basketball Association of America game at Detroit Olympia.

Unknown Geo. Schoux Wins Richmond Golf

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Dark horse George Schoux of San Bruno, Calif., staving off the challenges of some of the greatest stars in professional golf, won the $10,000 Richmond open tournament Sunday with a 72-hole total of 268.

The 28-year-old assistant pro posted a final 37-34—71 to go with previous rounds of 66-66-65 to win first money of $2,000.

Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., rapped in a four under par 67 which brought him second money with a 269. The United States open champion, Llyod Mangrum of Chicago, who led for the first half of the tournament, finished in a 271 tie with the P.G.A. titleholder and leading money winner, Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., and with Chick Harbert of Farmington, Mich.

George Fazio of Los Angeles, holder of the Canadian open title, came home with a final 35-35—70, for a total 277.

Schoux finished 16 under par [illegible] under. The 28-year-old Californian, who turned professional after competing in the tournament here a year ago as an amateur, actually clinched first place yesterday with birdies on the 13th and 14th holes. He dropped eight and five-footers for the par three scores. On the 18th he played the ball safe, his second being short.

He pitched to the green and was down in two for a par 5.

It was a spectacular entry into big time golf's winning circle for the lean youngster, whose upright swing has been compared favorably with that of Byron Nelson.

New Westminster Wins Junior Hockey

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Paced by Freddy Hilderbrand, who rapped in three goals and picked up a like number of assists, New Westminster Cubs entrenched themselves more firmly atop the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League by defeating the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds 8 to 4 in a league fixture here Sunday.

Another high point-getter for the Cubs was Don Berry who scored three goals and one assist.

Bees Bring Sudden End To Soccer Game

BERMUDA (Reuter) — Thousands of bees, invading a soccer ground here Sunday, stung the players so badly that the match had to be abandoned.

Wrestling Show Thrills Big Crowd

Wrestling fans turned out in good numbers Saturday and the bouts seemed to be just to their liking. Chief Little Wolf lost to Cliff Thiede in the main bout. [illegible] champion, beat Babe Smolinski. Lone Wolf beat Nick Harris.

The Little Wolf-Thiede bout was fought inside and outside the ring, and the referee also took a fair amount of punishment. It finished with the Indian protesting and Thiede wanting to continue the bout.

Kenneth and Smolinski put on a bout good enough for a headliner anywhere. Lone Wolf and Nick Harris kept the fans on their toes in expectation of mayhem any minute.

Danny Webb May Get Empire Title Fight

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter)—Danny Webb of Montreal, Canadian lightweight boxing champion, may meet Vic Patrick, Australian champion, for the British Empire lightweight title.

Sydney Stadiums Limited have instructed their Canadian agent to approach Webb about coming to Australia for the fight.

Stadium officials have announced that the British Boxing Board of Controls has recognized Patrick as leading contender for the vacant title which means that Patrick has to be one of the contestants in the next Empire lightweight title fight.

Hudson's Bay In Easy Cage Win; Marine Five Coming

Axel Kinnear's senior A Hudson's Bay Girls easily took the measure of the visiting Seattle Skylarks in an exhibition game Saturday night, 37 to 24.

The game, first intercity girls' clash of the season was rather slow throughout the first two quarters with the locals holding an 8 to 3 lead at the first quarter and a 12 to 7 margin at the half.

Margaret LaLacheur sparked the Bay's attack in the third period as the locals started to roll and her three bakets in the opening minutes of the frame gave the Bays a commanding lead which was never seriously threatened.

Seattle played a slow breaking type of game and were unable to cope with the speed of the Bays. They took a distinct dislike to the refereeing and complained on numerous occasions.

LaLacheur with 16 points [illegible] column.

K.V.'S WIN

In a senior A preliminary, Harold Turner's K.V.'s defeated the Army Navy and Air Force Vets 52 to 46 to force a third place tie in the senior standings. Providing that Vets do not win over the Legion five Wednesday night in their last match of the season these two teams will meet in a sudden-death game for third place honors. Fred Ranson, K.V.'s leading scorer, led his mates with 16 points.

SEATTLE COMING

Frank Elliott, secretary of the Victoria league announced that the United States Marine Recruiting Station will be here Saturday for an exhibition tilt with the Dominoes.

Tonight's senior B games at the High School are the final league games of the season and the results of these two contests will have a very definite bearing on who will enter the playoff rounds. MacDonald's need a win over the Navy in the feature game at 9, whereas the Sailors can move into a third place tie with the Chinese Students if they triumph.

Brentwood Aces will clash with Bruisers in the other senior B game. Bruisers are at present tied with Navy and will be at full strength for this important tilt. Canadian Legion and Sylvester U Drive Midgets meet in the preliminary at 7.

DICKEY TAKES JOB

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., (AP)—Bill Dickey, who served a short term at the helm of New York Yankees last year, signed a one-year contract Saturday as player-manager of Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Association, with whom he began his baseball career 22 years ago.

Boston Bruins Score Pair Of Hockey Wins

With a pair of sparkling victories that headlined the National Hockey League's six-game week-end, the rallying Boston Bruins ably demonstrated their ability to take a hint—even to what (they hope) should be the satisfaction of manager Art Ross.

Those victories—a 3 to 1 triumph over Chicago Black Hawks followed by a 3 to 2 decision over the league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs—made it three-in-a-row for the once-faltering Bostonians.

The Bruins' week-end wins left them still nine points behind the second-place Montreal Canadiens, who turned in the next best showing by picking up three of a possible four points, but stretched their third-place margin over New York Rangers to three points.

The Rangers broke even in their two matches, losing 6 to 2 to the Canadiens at Montreal but whipping the last-place Black Hawks, 5 to 3, at New York.

The Canadiens were held to a 2 to 2 draw by the fifth-place Detroit Red Wings Sunday night following the victory over Rangers but even so picked up a point on the leading Maple Leafs. The Leafs walloped Detroit 7 to 4 in Toronto Saturday night and their tumble to Boston Sunday night gave them a split on four week-end points.

EGAN'S GOAL WINS

A blistering 50-foot drive by defenceman Pat Egan gave Boston Bruins a victory over Toronto. The Bruins entered the final period a goal down and Bep Guidolin put them on even terms by whacking in a pass from Don Gallinger. About a minute later, Gallinger came out of a lively scramble behind the Leafs' net and set up the clincher by passing to Egan, who was stationed just over the Toronto blue line.

Johnny Mariucci's costly first-period penalty started Chicago on its downward path against Rangers as right-wing Grant Warwick rapped in two goals while he was off. Warwick also got an assist in the third period.

Richard, the league's leading scorer, leaped out of the penalty box midway of the second period to take Kenny Reardon's long pass at centre ice and beat Detroit goalie Harry Lumley cleanly for the first Montreal goal and his 25th of the season.

With eight and a half minute [illegible] up Buddy O'Connor's spot pass and fire home a blazing 35-footer.

That overcame Detroit's early lead, garnered in the opening half minute on Jim Conacher's 20-foot shot that whizzed past Montreal goaler Bill Durnan's elbow and the Canadiens remained ahead until Red Wings tied it on Billy Taylor's score with less than two minutes left.

Portland Scores Double Victory In Cage Circuit

The adage that "uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" may not be giving the Portland Indians any restless nights, but the next six nights may give the current leaders of the "play-for-pay" cage loop some rough times.

Presently out in front by three and one-half games, the Rose City quintett provides the major activity for the week with four games—all against first division competition.

Fresh from two wins over Salem by counts of 71 to 61 and Sunday's 70 to 50, Portland travels to Bellingham for a Monday-Tuesday meeting with Gale Bishop and company. Bellingham now is in third place, a half-game behind Vancouver, whom Portland entertains Saturday. Sunday the Rose City five plays host to Seattle.

In other games this week, Salem is at Yakima Tuesday and Wednesday; Seattle goes to Vancouver Wednesday and entertains Spokane the following night. Yakima plays a Friday-Saturday bill at Bellingham, with Seattle going to Salem Saturday.

In a game Saturday night Vancouver Hornets strengthened their hold on second place by beating Yakima 56 to 42. Porky Andrews took over the scoring honors for Hornets with 25 points.

North Ward Holds Amateur Boxing

Fistic aspirants of the North Ward Boxing Club put on their second successful interclub tournament of the young season at their community centre, Saturday night, and showed up well against other clubs' members.

The bout between Gregory of North Ward and Livingstone of the R.C.N. was the best of the evening as both youngsters battled furiously throughout the match. Saanich fisticuffers looked good in their first appearance.

Boxers participating were: P. Hemion, MacIntosh, J. McLeod, Woods, Calverley, A. Stewart, J. Baines, C. Bennett, D. Bamborough, Tahouny, B. Hemion, Wyne, J. Robbie, J. Gladson, V. Daggatt, D. Stewart, A. Plaxtch, R. Linden, A. Harrison, R. Gladson, D. Rolph, A. Layfield, E. Bob, F. Rolph, Vic Douglas, R. Belton, A. [illegible]

Victory In Last Event Gives Washington Win

Olympiad-aspiring Flying "Y" swimmers, who have been piling victory on victory in intercity competition at the Crystal Garden, tasted defeat Saturday night as University of Washington seniors, surging through on strength in freestyle events, won their dual meet 38 to 31 with a triumph in the last race of the evening.

But the local youngsters looked better as they dropped the decision than they have in many galas they have won. Before a cheering, packed house, they opened the show with a sensational achievement in the 150-yard men's medley relay, breaking the old Canadian record of 1 minute 24.4 seconds by more than a second to gain a clear-cut verdict over the Huskies. The mark improved by Dick Bowden, Peter Salmon and Eric Jubb, was the first of two Dominion standards bettered. Later George Heaney, Washington, pushed by "Y's" Eric Jubb, thrashed over the 50-yard backstroke route in 28.2 seconds, cutting three-fifths of a second from American Bruce Donaldson, 1941, Canadian record of 28.8.

Thrill-packed in virtually every sprint, the meet brought the Victorians up against the finest competition they have met in recent seasons—a team which Coach Jack Torney of Washington rates the best, balanced and strongest the Huskies have ever assembled.

Pete Powlison, double victor in the freestyle races and anchor in the final relay, together with Heaney, who took both backstroke races, combined to give the visitors the meet.

SMART DOUBLE WIN

Sensational was the showing of Salmon, Canadian junior titleholder, who defeated Bud Hill of Washington in both breaststroke sprints, an accomplishment which raises his rating high in the Pacific Northwest.

Individually the "Y" team, Salmon, Jubb, Bowden, Ron Neilson, Gordy Lawrence, Bill Turkington and Len Coverdale turned in splendid performances that kept the locals in the team point fight all the way and had them leading until the final relay. In that race, the superior power of the visitors asserted itself in freestyle, and the younger "Y" flyers went down trying.

[illegible] mental swimming by Ina Salmon, Joan Morgan and Aileen Smyth, a neat display of springboard diving by Ernie Hoff, Washington, and Leslie Rimmer, Victoria, assisted by water comedian Bob Montgomery, a stroke demonstration by tiny Valerie Bates, and races and novelties by "Y" juniors and girls, rounded out an [illegible]

Vancouver Drops To Fourth Place In Coast Hockey

The hectic jockeying for favored positions behind the front-running Portland Eagles in the northern difision of the Pacific Coast Hockey League continued during the week-end.

Seattle Ironmen once more were in sole possession of the place position as the result of a 4 to 3 victory over Vancouver Canucks. The loss was the fourth in a row for the fading Canucks, now relegated to fourth place.

New Westminster Royals slipped to third place, after sharing the runner-up spot briefly with Seattle Ironmen, when they were handed a 6 to 5 defeat by the division-leading Portland Eagles.

In the southern division, Hollywood Wolves lengthened their commanding section lead by turning back San Francisco Shamrocks, 4 to 1.

Los Angeles Monarchs took over second place in the southern division by winning two week-end games. They defeated Tacoma Rockets of the northern division, 5 to 4, and in another game set back San Diego Skyhaws, 4 to 1.

The rejuvenated Oakland Oaks, former cellar-dwellers, hung a 4 to 3 defeat on Fresno Falcons to bring them within two points of the fourth-place Falcons.

Oak Bay-Legion Register Senior Soccer Victories

Oak Bay and Canadian Legion marked up victories in weekend first division soccer matches. The Bays by turning back Victoria West 9 to 4 Saturday, for their second straight victory in the second half, rest in first place. Sunday the Legion edged out Esquimalt 3 to 2 on Cliff Robbins' goal in the final minutes.

First half play was keen with Legion getting the only goal when Anderson, diminutive right winger found the net. Soon after the start of the second period Anderson punched home his second counter putting the Legion ahead 2 to 0. Esquimalt rallied and counters by Nip Sage and Tommy Druce left the clubs on even terms. With each club fighting for the winner Cliff Robbins provided the margin for the Legion.

Five goals by centre-forward Arnold Ferguson featured Oak Bay's victory over the Wests. In all fairness to the greenshirts, first half winners, it must be noted they were without the services of several of their leading players, absent with the United for the Coast League engagement in Nanaimo.

The Bays played a wide-open, fast-breaking style and it paid off. The Oak Bay lads moved into a 4 to 0 lead in the first half on three goals by Ferguson and a single counter by Smart.

Shortly after second half play opened Harry Barber made it 5 to 0. Before the final whistle the elevens had fired eight more shots between the sticks with the honors split. Gordie Cooper and Alec Dallimore each provided a pair for the Wests while Ferguson 2, Smart and Morgan added the additional scores for the Bays.

Mrs. Marjorie Todd-Finney and Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria Golf Club successfully defended the E. D. Todd ladies' brooches Sunday by defeating Miss I. Jarvis and Mrs. J. Fanthorpe of Gorge Vale 6 and 5.

Rifle Shooting

Cadet W. Malcolm with a score of 484 out of a possible 500 on five targets took top honors at the Canadian Scottish Cadet recreational shoot on the miniature range during November and December.

Cadet Rae McDonald qualified as a marksman during the same period, scoring 956 out of a possible 1,000 on 10 targets.

Held under the auspices of the Dominion Rifle Association the competitions for the cadets provide that those firing five targets of 75 points or over qualify for a first-class badge. Those firing 10 targets with 90 points or over per target are awarded the association marksman's badge.

Schroeder Boosted In Tennis Rankings

NEW YORK (AP)—Delegates to the annual meeting of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Saturday placed Ted Schroeder second in 1946 ranking list and dropped Frankie Parker to third place.

The revised rankings are: 1, Kramer; 2, Schroeder; 3, Parker; 4, Tom Brown; 5, Gardnar Mulloy; 6, William Talbert; 7, Don McNeill; 8, Bob Falkenburg; 9, Eddie Moyland; 10, Pancho Segura. Seymout Greenberg of Chicago, originally No. 10, is now 11.

Two Fights As United In Soccer Tie With Nanaimo

Victoria United added another draw to its Coast League soccer record Saturday by playing to a 3 to 3 tie with Nanaimo at the up-island town. The home club grabbed off a goal in the dying minutes to earn the stalemate in a game marked by two fights. Result leaves United still holding first place in the second-half with four points in three matches. United held a 2 to 1 lead at half-time.

Fans witnessed some real action in the late stages. After Nanaimo had tied the score Tommy Druce, Victoria centre-forward, broke through but fouled goalie Johnstone as he raced towards the net. Nanaimo centre-half Frank English immediately went after Druce and the pair engaged in a brief scuffle which resulted in their being sent off the field. The next play saw Victoria back Ken Druce bring down Uke Grey with a stiff tackle and then defend himself against an attack from Bud Sandland. Players and officials had quite a time breaking up the resultant melee.

SPELLER NETS PAIR

Murray Speller netted the game's opening goal and was credited with a second one shortly after when Nanaimo's Willie Leigh deflected his goal-ward shot into the Nanaimo goal as he tried to clear. Before half-time Easterbrook found the net for Nanaimo's first goal.

Victoria advanced to a 3 to 1 lead after 18 minutes of play in the final half when Ab Travis scored with a sizzling drive that caromed off Nanaimo centre-half, English.

Pressing hard, Nanaimo sliced the lead five minutes later, Easterbrook pushing up Uke Grey's initial drive to beat Moss handily.

Forcing a corner in the dying minutes, Nanaimo got the equalizer as Sandland booted to just under the bar. The greasy ball eluded goalie Moss' outstretched hands and dropped in behind him. It was a tough break.

Winnipeg Monarchs Nose Out Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Three last-period goals off the sticks of Don Mackay, Gerry Scott and Dick Tougher swept Winnipeg Monarchs to a 5 to 4 victory over Nanaimo Clippers in the exhibition hockey game here Saturday night.

After a scoreless first period Nanaimo outscored the Canadian junior champions 4 to 2 in a wild second period. Nanaimo goals were provided by Dougherty, Sawchuk two and Richardson with Gordon Scott firing both counters for the tourists.

Only penalties in the game, and they all were in the final period, were two minors. Both went to Monarchs.

'Cagey' Hockey Play . . .

Goalie Bill Durnan of Montreal Canadiens is nearly shoved into his cage as his defencemen thwart New York Rangers' scoring attempt in first period of game at Madison Square Garden. Glen Harmon (8) of Canadiens comes in on play. Rangers scored in last 30 seconds of game and won 2 to 1.

Purchase Of Greenberg Gives Pittsburgh Home Run Kings

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The most dangerous club in the major leagues this year may well be the lowly seventh-place Pittsburgh Pirates, now owners of the two 1946 home run kings.

The Pirates already had the National League's home run champion in rookie outfielder Ralph Kiner who slugged out 23 circuit blows. The purchase of Hank Greenberg from Detroit—who topped American League swatters with 44—gives the Buccos a one-two punch that bodes no good for rivals.

What's more the Pittsburgh outfield also has Jim Russell, making it the hardest-hitting fielders' crew seen here since the 1927 days of the two Waners and Woody Jenson.

Purchase of the 36-year-old Greenberg from the Tigers the price was understood to be $50,000—gives the Pirates one of the game's biggest drawing cards. The seven other American [illegible] to Greenberg.

No salary trouble was anticipated with the handsome first baseman-outfielder who was reported to have received $60,000 from the Tigers last season and planned to ask $75,000 this year.

Cargo Ship Winner At Agua Caliente

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (AP)—Cargo Ship, owned by Al Tarn of Vancouver, regained his winning role by finishing first in the Old Faithful Handicap at Hipodromo de Tijuana Sunday.

Cargo Ship nosed out Mananui, the Hawaii-bred horse who beat him in the Christmas Handicap. Miss Laurella, who outran Cargo Ship last Sunday, was third.

The Tarn horse, winner in five of six starts prior to those two setbacks, did the 1 1-16 miles in 1.44 2-5 to pay backers $4.40, $2.80 and $2.40.

New Tax Plans Viewed Favorably

TORONTO (CP)—Hon. Clarence Fines, Saskatchewan provincial treasurer, said Sunday night that Dominion-Provincial tax proposals made by Finance Minister Abbott last week during conferences with Manitoba, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan officials were "the best that have yet been made" and expressed confidence they would be acceptable "to at least seven" provinces.

"With respect to Ontario and Quebec, I am hopeful they will be able to find the new proposals acceptable," said Mr. Fines, saying also he was unable to give details of the plan.

"The province of Saskatchewan is prepared to join with Ontario and other provinces in urging another Dominion-Provincial conference be held immediately the taxation agreements have been completed. The purpose of this conference would be to discuss ways and means of implementing the social security measures."

Seattle Rainiers Lose Pitcher Tost

SEATTLE (AP)—Lefty Lou Tost, leading pitcher for the tail-end Seattle Rainiers last year in the Pacific Coast League baseball chase, probably will not be with the club this season, business manager Earl Sheely said today.

He said Boston's Braves of the National League had withdrawn waivers on Tost after two clubs had shown interest in him, and would take the lefthander to the Braves' training camp.

Jack Adams 20 Years In N.H.L. Marked By Three World Champs

When Detroit Red Wings played their opening game of the 1946-47 National Hockey League season Jack Adams began his 20th campaign at the helm of the Detroit club. Adams, who looks after the managerial as well as coaching chores of the Motor City sextette, has taken part in the opening game of every Detroit club since they made their initial start in N.H.L. competition back in 1926. Jack has been the master-mind of every Detroit team since 1927, and in 1926 when Detroit Cougars made their debut into hockey's top circles, Adams played for Ottawa Senators against the Cougars.

The record books afford the greatest testimonial to Adams' effectiveness as a hockey tactician. He has led his club to the National Hockey League championship on four occasions and three times to the Stanley Cup, symbol of the world's professional hockey title. His teams are noted for their fighting characteristics and will-to-win spirit.

FINE PLAYER RECORD

Jack was born in Fort William, Ont., and played junior and senior hockey for his hometown club. He turned professional with the Toronto Arenas just before the playoffs in 1918 and was the rookie star of the series that year which saw the Queen City club capture the Stanley Cup. After playing hockey in the old Pacific Coast League for three seasons he returned to Toronto and the N.H.L. spending four years with Toronto before moving on to Ottawa Senators, another Stanley Cup champion in 1926-27.

Hockey in Adams' life, and he has given his best to the game. He has learned to enjoy success that only championship clubs can bring, and suffers the agonies of any great competitor when his team goes down to defeat.

Building Permits

H. Clark was issued a building permit today to modernize the building at 602 Courtney Street to convert it into four stores. Cost of the work will be $12,000.

Other building permits issued were to E. J. Hunter to build a duplex at 2035 Cook Street, costing $8,000. Each suite would have five rooms. Mrs. B. Exton was granted a permit to build a five-room suite and a store on the ground floor at 3100 Shelbourne costing $8,000.

Town Topics

The British Sailors' Society have written Mayor Percy George asking permission to hold a tag day in the city during the early spring.

A special meeting of the Victoria Short Wave Club will be held at the clubhouse, 2500 Foul Bay Road, at 8 this evening to discuss a matter of urgent importance to all radio amateurs.

The Appeal Court heard today the appeal of William Russel Terrell of Haney, who was found guilty by an Assize Court of committing a statutory offence. A. Hugo Ray of Vancouver, is counsel for the appellant.

Protests against the rezoning of St. Charles Street and Fairfield Road corner lots to permit the building of a gasoline station have been made by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smalley, 305 St. Charles Street; C. N. A. MacEwan, 1607 Fairfield Road, and E. Woodward, 1588 Fairfield Road. They all claim the corner is dangerous for such a building and should remain residential.

Names will have to be chosen for two new streets and a short blind street on the Housing Enterprise project in the northern section of the city G. M. Irwin, city engineer, informed today's City Council meeting. Housing Enterprises Ltd. refers to the project as the "Topaz Heights Development" although Topaz Avenue is two blocks south, he noted.

Burglars were active over the week-end. Breaking through a rear door, thieves stole four electric shavers valued at $20 each, two flashlights and 20 flashlight batteries from the Northern Electric Company store at 831 Yates Street. Attempts of burglary failed at the Kendall Radio Laboratory, Pacific Barber Shop, and Lasey's Coffee Shop.

Pleading guilty in city police court today to a W.P.T.B. charge that he refused to sell a car for the ceiling price after offering it for sale, and also that he failed to give full particulars as to accessories when advertising the automobile for sale, James C. White was fined $25 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Robert Lyall Finlayson, a sailor, was remanded until tomorrow for sentence when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge that he took a car without the owner's consent. Constable [illegible] of the city police, said he and Sgt. Thomas Banister chased a stolen car from the Johnson Street Bridge to Tyee Road and Bay Street on Saturday night. On stopping it, he found that Finlayson was the driver.

Meeting Asks Talks With B.C.E.R. Plan For Later Public Ownership

A resolution urging Greater Victoria municipal governments renew negotiations for a transportation franchise with the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. but at the same time work out a plan for eventual public ownership of urban transit was adopted by a meeting held Sunday under sponsorship of the Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.)

R. Mezger, secretary of the Victoria Labor Council, told the meeting, which was attended by representatives of the city, Saanich and Esquimalt, that the council endorsed public ownership as the only alternative to a B.C.E.R. franchise.

Mr. Mezger described the B.C. E.R. as part of a huge monopoly whose control extended even beyond the boundaries of Canada. Only one director of the company lived outside of Toronto and Montreal, he said, and as a result much of the profits of the B.C. Power Corporation and its subsidiary transportation, power and gas companies went outside of British Columbia. He said the company had no interest in British Columbia beyond drawing wealth from the province.

NO CASH EXPENDITURE

Public ownership of Greater Victoria's transit services, he contended, would not necessarily require an immediate cash expenditure. Several auto manufacturing firms were willing to extend credit for such operations, he said.

Mr. Mezger also suggested that other money could be borrowed at low interest rates, one such source being a gasoline and oil company which could be prevailed upon to loan the city money to secure a contract for gasoline.

He took exception to the statements of Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, who suggested public ownership might cost the taxpayers up to $225,000 a year.

Mayor Percy George said he was unalterably opposed to public ownership of the Greater Victoria transportation system at this time and suggested any thought of it was wishful thinking. The mayor also said he was unalterably opposed to a plebiscite on public ownership being conducted at this time since it would accomplish no more than an expression of opinion on the principle of such a plan. He did, however, approve of public ownership in principle.

Councillor Harry Ball of Burnaby, where ratepayers vote two to one in favor of public ownership, read letters from auto manufacturing firms in which they said they could make delivery of buses within 90 days. He said that public ownership of transportation in West Vancouver had netted the municipality $16,541 profit despite the fact that the municipality's population was only 9,500 and its transit system was working in competition to that of the B.C.E.R.

Ald. Diggon told the meeting he was opposed to public ownership at this time and mentioned the risk of competition to a public transportation system because of the high per capita car and taxi population in Victoria, and the walking habits of the citizens.

OVERHEAD HIGHER

He also contended that administrative and maintenance costs would be higher under public ownership and the city might receive less from any possible profits than 4 per cent of total revenue and $350,000 for street repairs which the B.C.E.R. had agreed to pay.

Ald. Diggon, however, approved of public ownership in principle.

E. S. Farr, transit adviser to the city, said public ownership was not really a profitable undertaking at this time.

Chairman of the meeting was E. Douglas.

No General Big Increases Since Prices Decontrolled

As a result of price decontrol orders peanuts in the shell are starting to arrive in small shipments in Victoria. Peanuts have [illegible] for some years.

Lemon prices are down, but the price of oranges are the same as before. It is expected that California bunch carrot shipments will start arriving at the latter part of the week. There is a general improvement in vegetable supplies.

Cosmetics, drugs, leather goods and chemicals have risen in price and perfumes have risen considerably. A rise is expected in luxury items, but little change is expected in everyday required items in the home.

While clothing stores are still getting their supplies on a quota basis, a decrease in the prices of ready-to-wear articles is reported.

Some dealers said slight increases could be expected in certain lines because manufacturers operated at a loss during the war years in order to keep retail stores going and have maintained prices without decrease in quality.

However, dealers noted they were unable to predict whether prices on a wide variety of the things decontrolled would go up or down, this being in the hands of the manufacturers. "We will govern ourselves according to their action," several said.

Speeder Fined $50, Has License Taken

Fines of $50, $40 and $35 were imposed on motorists who pleaded guilty before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today to dangerous driving charges.

In addition to being fined $50, Everet F. Wilson was prohibited from driving for three months as the result of police testimony that he drove at 55 miles an hour along Hillside Avenue between Douglas Street and Cedar Hill Road on Sunday.

Leo L. Gordon, who was fined $40 as the result of a collision in which his car was involved at View and Government Streets last Wednesday, also was given a three months' suspension of driver's license.

Robert Trackvor was fined $35 and will return to court tomorrow to see if his driver's license will be suspended. The charge against him arose from an accident on Douglas Street on Jan. 12 in which his car was alleged to have hit a streetcar, derailing it, and then another automobile.

The Red Cross watercolor exhibition, "Color in Southern British Columbia," will not be open in the evenings and will close finally at 6, Wednesday night.

Cabeldu To Consult Cleveland This Week

Ald. F. N. Cabeldu, chairman of the water board, will spend several days in Vancouver this week consulting Dr. A. E. Cleveland, Vancouver water commissioner, and the [illegible] Metropolitan Water Board there, he said today.

Prior to leaving for Vancouver he plans an inspection of Victoria's watershed and the pipeline, to familiarize himself with the water system here.

Dr. Cleveland is expected in Victoria some time this week to start his investigation of the water supply for lower Vancouver Island. He is at present studying the reports on the distribution system prepared by F. C. Stewart, consulting engineer, for Victoria.

B.C.E.R. Reports On New High Totals Set During 1946

B.C. Electric carried more passengers, produced more gas and electricity and laid out more millions for new projects and equipment in 1946 than in any previous year of its history.

The figures:

Passengers transported over Vancouver, Victoria and interurban lines, including metropolitan buses, numbered 156,045,482 compared with 148,332,302 in 1945.

Cubic feet of gas manufactured at Vancouver plants was 2,601,073,000 compared with 2,312,518,000 cubic feet in 1945.

Electricity generated and distributed from stations on the lower mainland was 820,774,300 kilowatt hours compared with 786,710,000 k.w.h. last year.

Toting up these record-breaking figures, B.C.E.R. officials also noted that projects started and equipment ordered in 1946 will cost more than $22,000,000 during the next 12 months.

The B.C. Electric's $50,000,000 plan for improvement and expansion of services during the first 10 postwar years is booming along at four times the pace originally contemplated.

Strikes and shortages delayed delivery of badly-needed buses, copper wire, transformers, steel, building materials, gas pipe, line hardware.

One hundred and seventeen buses had been promised by manufacturers in 1946. A bare 40 arrived. Hundreds of thousands of feet of copper wire were on order last year and only a fraction of the total arrived—due to strikes in eastern Canada and the United States.

Labor relations with all seven unions were generally good. There were no strikes. Wage increases were widespread and included street car and bus operators, gas and electrical workers and head office employees.

Security of employees in case of sickness, accident and old age was greatly enhanced with the inauguration of a $7,000,000 pension plan and allied welfare programs.

To help handle the increase, 552 employees were added, bringing the total staff to 6,393 men and women. The annual payroll—largest in western Canada—was $12,449,512 in 1946, compared with $10,444,614 in 1945.

U.N. May Postpone Talks Until Feb. 4

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—A United States motion to postpone United Nations discussion of world-wide arms reduction plans for two weeks appeared assured of passage today by the Security Council.

Only Russia stood opposed to the move on the basis of past arguments as the delegates assembled after a week-end recess.

Warren R. Austin, chief U.S. delegate, asked the delay until Feb. 4 because of James F. Byrnes' resignation as Secretary of State and to allow more time for studying a series of preliminary proposals tossed into the Council hopper by Russia, France, Colombia and Australia.

OF EXPRESSING YOURSELF there are numerous ways, like music, writing or plotting out plays. Well, I'm about to enter a new line of endeavour, altho this present connection I'm not goin to sever. And in this new field, just as in this, I do not think that I can miss. Because as far as I can see, it will B entirely original with me. Maybe you'll think I'm a bigger fool, but I'm planning to open a crayon school. I'm convinced I'd have pupils galore, in a wide range of ages from 10 to 4. Because if your kids are at all like mine, they struggle a greater part of their time. Turning out purple houses and trees of red, and orange cows against a powder blue shed.

THIS floral wine velour chesterfield suite just released to us from storage . . . it certainly hasn't bin used more than a [illegible]

NOW don't think I'm jumping right into this school without any training or without any rule. Because I've spent the past 6 years with our 2 little 'dotter dears, coaching and telling 'em, time after time "remember now . . . DON'T go over the line." And every nite, Trudie says to her Pa, "c'mon, Dad, let's another crayon draw?"

U DRAW just $16.50 outa your bank and we'll deliver this smartly styled bookcase . . . 3 shelves, drawer under.

I'VE TRIED everything that one can do, in making the sky a lovely blue. Then I storm it up, like a fork I zig, "look out for lightning," then give it a zig. It gets awfully monotonus just using one color, and except the red and blues, all others too duller. So I add all kinds of blots, and am really a whizz with polka dots. Especially little girls with a flaring skirt. I invariably give them a lumberman's shirt. But today we went into something new, a beautiful stained glass window I carefully drew. This so fascinated Trudie, she's been trying her arm to duplicate this one I put on the barn.

U NEED spend only $119 for a brand new waterfall styled bedroom suite, in a pretty 2-tone wheatstraw.

SO U CAN SEE when my school gets going that real results I'll soon B showing. I've already given myself a degree, Doctor Of Crayons, and spelt backwards, that's C.O.D.

Training Plane Carrying Pilots To Flaming Death Narrowly Missed Farm House

When their twin-engined plane crashed near Headingley, Man., two young Trans-Canada Airlines pilots were killed. The plane, which burned in a snow-covered pasture, ripped out power lines and left town of St. Francoix Xavier dark. It plowed a 75-yard furrow in the ground (1), shedding wing near house (2), propeller caught on fence (3). Had plane struck 300 feet from where it did, the house occupants, George and Oliver Richard, might have been victims. No passengers were carried on wrecked plane.

Victoria Canary Song Contest Attracts Crowd

The first canary song contest ever held in Victoria proved an outstanding success with more than 500 persons attending the show at the O.E.S. Hall, Redfern Street, Sunday evening.

The contest, sponsored by the Victoria Roller Club, featured many entries from the United States. Special forms were made available to allow American exhibitors to have their birds readmitted to the United States free of duty.

Peter Greenall, local authority on canaries, was judge, while Ald. D. D. McTavish awarded the prizes.

First prize for the best young bird in the show went to J. A. Corlett, 920 Darwin Road. Edward Bennett, Vancouver, won top honors in the best old bird class. In the champion young bird class, J. Poole was first, and Mrs. E. Bennett, Vancouver, won the award for the "best bird in the show."

J. A. Corlett was awarded the D. W. Smoothy Trophy for the champion green bird class, while K. Elliott, 3339 Glasgow Avenue, ... for young birds.

The show is on for four days.

Gordon May Quit Prices Board Mar. 31

OTTAWA (CP) — A resignation in government circles around March 31 is reported to be pending.

It is that of Donald Gordon, burly chairman of the Prices Board, who is said to be eager to return to his prewar job as deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

Most likely successor to Mr. Gordon is Ken Taylor, foods administrator and deputy chairman for the board, who long has been regarded as a candidate for the chairmanship.

March 31 has been chosen as a possible date for Mr. Gordon's departure because that is the time at which the Emergency Powers Act, under which many price controls were continued from the war period, is set to expire.

Signing Treaties Byrnes' Final Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States State Secretary Byrnes, as his final official act, today signed the Second World War peace treaties with Italy, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Chairman Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Tom Connally (Dem., Tex.), who took part in the 16 months of negotiations on the compacts, were at Byrnes' side in the ceremony at the State Department.

There will be a second signing of the treaties at Paris, Feb. 10, when representatives of the enemy satellite states will affix their signatures.

Other Allies will sign the treaties at the same time. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery will act then for the United States.

Today's ceremony was arranged chiefly to permit Byrnes to sign the treaties before turning over his office to Gen. George C. Marshall.

WARNING

Pursuant to Section 33 of the "Highway Act," it is the intention of the undersigned to limit the use of all roads in the Comox Electoral District during any break-up by reason of thaw. Notices restricting traffic will be posted as and when required.

J. L. ROE, Assistant District Engineer.

5-Year-Old Girl Saves 2 Brothers

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Five-year-old Nicole Proulx of Flin Flon is credited today with saving her two brothers aged three years and eighteen months respectively when fire Saturday destroyed their home on the Saskatchewan side of this northern town straddling the Saskatchewan-Manitoba border.

When she discovered the fire, caused by overheated pipes, Nicole was said to have dressed her three-year-old brother and wrapped a blanket around the younger child before taking both outdoors. There she met a neighbor who turned in an alarm.

Firemen stationed on the Manitoba side of the town turned back at the border after receiving the alarm, lacking authority to cross to the fire.

Britain Cuts Coal Ration For Steel

LONDON (AP) — An official of the British Iron and Steel Federation said today that coal allocations for the steel industry would be cut 25 per cent immediately as a result of Britain's critical shortage.

... announced a cut in non-priority industry coal allocations of 50 per cent effective today, but the slash to iron and steel plants came as a surprise to the industry, aiming at a record steel production of 13,500,000 tons this year.

Some observers estimated the cut might reduce steel output by 1,000,000 tons in 1947.

No further reduction in rations for household use is contemplated.

London Conference On Palestine Awaits Arrival Of Arabs

LONDON (CP)—British-Arab talks on Palestine, due to be resumed at St. James' Palace tomorrow, were postponed today until at least Thursday because not all the Arab delegations had reached London.

Representatives of the Palestine Arabs were among the non-arrivals, a British spokesman said. He added it was safe to assume the conference would not open before Jan. 23 or 24.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Foreign Secretary Bevin intends to address the Arab delegates when the conference resumes. Britain's reply to an Arab call, made when the talks were opened last year, for the immediate declaration of Palestine's independence will be elaborated further by Colonial Secretary Jones.

In Palestine, meanwhile, the "Voice of Fighting Zion," secret radio of the Jewish terrorist group Irgu Zvai Leumi, said in its usual Sunday broadcast that "There will be no peace in the Holy Land."

JERUSALEM (Reuter)—In the strongest condemnation of terrorism yet uttered at any public meeting in Palestine, David Remez, chairman of the Jewish National Council for Palestine, said today that "the Jewish Community in Palestine will resist—by force if necessary—any further outbreaks of violence."

Remez threatened physical action against the dissident groups, Irgu Zvai Leumi and the Stern Gang, if they persisted in using terror as a political weapon.

New Look At An Old Friend

This is a view of Mount Rainier, Washington, seen by few people. One of the first aerial photographs taken, it shows how the famous 14,408-foot peak looks to a pilot flying over it at 31,000 feet. It shows plainly the great crater left when the mountain, then a volcano, blew 10,000 feet off its top ages ago. The picture is a mosaic of four separate negatives, taken by automatic camera in a Boeing B-29 Superfortress.

Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood (NEA) — Even if husband Glenn Ford doesn't fully approve, Eleanor Powell is serious about resuming her career. She has rented a Hollywood dance studio, to rehearse her new routines for a night-club tour starting in Philadelphia late this month and ending in Chicago.

During her recent trip to New York, Freddie Bartholomew's Aunt Cissy lived for six weeks in a hotel just three blocks from where Freddie is living with his wife. But they didn't see each other. Auntie and Freddie have been feuding ever since his marriage.

Hollywood is still talking about director Mitch Leisen's New Year's Eve party. The affair cost him about $20,000, what with a dance studio converted into a night club, two orchestras, baked pheasant and champagne, and breakfast at ... for 500 guests.

LUCKY IN LOVE . . .?

Paramount has written a new ending for "The Road to Rio," leaving ... air as to which lover, Hope or Crosby, gets Dottie Lamour. In the final scene, Dottie says, "I love you both," and the picture will fade out on a romantic shot of Niagara Falls.

Hope, by the way, cleaned up on the Rose Bowl game. "I saw Illinois play Northwestern," he grinned, showing us a wad of bills big enough to choke Sinatra. (Not a bad idea.)

Veronica Lake and Alan Ladd are playing rough again in "Saigon." In one scene she bites him on the wrist—girl bites Ladd. . . . Joan Caulfield's sister, Betty, will arrive in Hollywood late this month for a film career of her own. . . . Guy Madison, who has been going places with Gail Russell, has gotten around to Cathy Downs.

THE PERFECT TRIBUTE

John Garfield recently introduced famed pianist Alex Steinert to welterweight boxer Artie Dorrell, who turned actor to play John's ring opponent in "Body and Soul."

"I want you to meet Alex Steinert, Artie," Garfield said. "He also makes his living with his hands."

"He must be plenty hot," replied Dorrell. "His face ain't got a single mark on it."

Ballot Counting Starts In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Election officials began today the task of counting approximately 6,000,000 ballots in Brazil's first election under the new constitution, in which 3,000 state officials were named Sunday, including a senator, governor and state legislature members in each of the 20 Braziliann states.

The Communist Party, whose legality is being contested by the chief of federal police, tried to poll 1,000,000 votes throughout the nation for a show of strength and hoped to win 20 of the 50 aldermanic seats in the Rio de Janeiro federal district.

Contesting the Communists bid for power was former President Getulio Vargas, whose Labor party backed Hugo Borghi for governor of Sao Paulo. Voting was reported to have been orderly throughout.

Extreme Losses Reduced At Close

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks generally wilted in today's market although isolated issues exhibited moderate strength.

Dealings were slow throughout. Light profit-cashing on the recent recovery was evident from the start. Timid support then arrived and extreme losses were reduced in the majority of cases near the close.

Canadian stocks were easy at midday. Dome Mines and Hiram Walker each lost ⅜. Distillers Seagrams was off ½ and Canadian Pacific ⅛.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—The stock market turned heavy today. The trend of industrials was toward lower levels with virtually the only exception being leading breweries which met with a measure of support. Home rails eased back.

South African golds spent a quiet day with coppers providing the best feature of the mining section. Argentine railways were dower. Oils generally closed easier, particularly Trinidad issues.

British government long-dated issues lost ⅛ of a point on the day in a quiet market.

Bonds: British 2½% Consols (98⅛, British 3½% War Loan (108 7-16, British Funding 4s 1960-90 (121⅛.

Trading Slows Down After Active Start

MONTREAL (CP)—The trading tempo slowed down in dealings up to the fourth hour today after a moderately active opening had indicated an improved tone.

In papers better were Abitibi Preferred, St. Lawrence Corporation A and B.C. Forest. Bell jumped ½ point in light trading in utilities.

Industrials were mostly unchanged with a few selected issues slightly better. Petroleum was firmer and McColl easier in oils.

Mining Stocks Take Upward Trend

TORONTO (CP)—Light profit-taking following the recent recovery move in industrials kept that group from making gains today but mining stocks were on the upgrade with several issues trading heavily for substantial gains.

Papers proved a firm group today with many fractional gains and a couple of point rises. Financial and construction stocks were also strong for fraction gains. Oils were quiet and utilities were even on gains and losses. Fractional changes were general throughout industrials.

Golds were much more positive with sizeable gains for some of the senior issues—Pickle Crow, Premier, Central Patricia.

Base metals were quite active with Sherritt Gordon showing good gains. Junior golds posted many point gains.

X-Ray Unit Opens At Health Centre

The T.B. mobile clinic opened today by the Health Centre on Pandora Avenue and will remain there for the next three weeks to give the citizens of Greater Victoria an opportunity to obtain free chest X-rays.

Mayor Percy George, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Reeve E. J. Read of Esquimalt, Councillor A. C. Wurtele and Councillor J. A. Ellis, also of Esquimalt, were on hand for the opening and were X-rayed.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, explained that it is the purpose to try and get every adult over 15 in the area X-rayed before the campaign closes and if the incidence of unsuspected tuberculosis holds for Victoria approximately 85 active cases may be discovered.

Workers from St. John Ambulance brigade were on duty to register those coming for X-rays and fill out their cards. They will be on duty every morning this week from 10 to 12, Dr. Anderson explained, and workers from the Civil Defence Guild, No. 5, will take over in the afternoons from 1.30 to 3.30.

Volunteer workers will carry on during the rest of the campaign, and some are still needed to fill the roster he said.

Miss Mary White is the technician in charge of the unit, assisted by S. G. Smith and Miss M. Summerville.

Airpark Inventory

Ald. B. J. Gadsden asked today's City Council meeting to authorize the city purchasing agent to institute an immediate inventory of all property on the Gordon Head airpark site at the former naval property purchased by the city. He explained that much of the materials in the buildings could probably be sold or used in the development of the airpark.

Five Victoria members of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, accompanied by their wives, are in Vancouver today attending the corporation's 25-year club anniversary in the Hotel Vancouver. Attending are: J. R. Robertson, Capitol Theatre manager, H. C. Edwards, W. More and R. Jones, projectionists; and George Menelaws, Dominion Theatre janitor. The club, started two years ago, composes only corporation personnel in Canada who can show 25 years' service with the company. Mr. Menelaws is the newest Victoria member in the club. The others are charter members.

Old Navy Dock At Esquimalt May Be Used By Ss. Rabaul

Owing to the fact that the new Esquimalt drydock at Skinner's Cove is occupied, efforts were being made today for the use of the old drydock in the Navy Yard for the drydocking of Ss. Rabaul of W. R. Carpenter (Canada) Ltd.

The contract for the overhauling of the Rabaul in drydock is held by the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. Provided permission of the Ottawa authorities can be obtained, the steamship will be floated into the old drydock tomorrow morning.

The old graving basin at Esquimalt, which was put out of commission following the completion of the new drydock on the opposite of Esquimalt harbor, has been used periodically since V-J Day, chiefly for the drydocking of smaller vessels, including destroyers.

During the war the basin was used as a mooring base for vessels of the Fishermen's Reserve. The gate has since been replaced and the dock is again available for use.

The Skinner's Cove drydock is at present occupied by H.M.C.S. Warrior and the C.P.R. coastal steamer Princess Victoria.

Fraser Survivors Hold Reunion Here

Fourteen of 25 survivors of H.M.C.S. Fraser, which was rammed and sunk by the Calcutta in the Bay of Biscay, June 25, 1940, held a reunion Sunday night in the library of H.M.C.S. Naden.

It is proposed to make the reunion an annual event.

Capt. W. B. Creery, Royal Canadian Naval College, Royal Roads, and Cmdr. V. W. Groos dined with former crew members. Eleven other survivors were prevented by distance from attending.

Of the group, two, Frank Millan and Brian Hanson of Victoria, are now civilians. The others have remained in the service.

Those attending were: R.P.O. Johnson, Harry Leggett and Ernest Parson of H.M.C.S. Ontario; Edward DeCosta, Thomas Wellington and James Wicks of H.M.C.S. Uganda; Owen Cover and George Bowditch of H.M.C.S. Naden, and Danny Pearson of H.M.C.S. Warrior.

2 Ships Sailing

After loading lumber at the Ogden Point Docks, the freighters Utahan and Fort Henley are scheduled to sail today, the former for Port Alberni and the latter for the United Kingdom, according to Cecil Ridout, of King Bros., shipping agents.

Sees Autonomy As Beneficial To Junior Chamber

The hope that the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce would develop on a par with similar organizations across the Dominion, now that it has secured its autonomy, was expressed by Archie Cater, executive vice-president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, today.

Mr. Cater will address the junior chamber at a dinner meeting tonight at 6 in Terry's dining-room, and will put stress on a campaign aimed at the betterment of the city.

He emphasized the need of the junior chamber to develop a program that will impress on young businessmen the value of being a member of the organization.

The Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Cater said, has more than trebled its membership in the last three years. "We number 26,000 and of that number 8,000 are French Canadians."

After noting that Vancouver has 750 in the organization and that New Westminster, with a population of 25,000, has 160 members, the national vice-president considered Victoria's membership of 50 a poor showing for a city of this size.

In the international picture, Mr. Cater said there were 29 countries in the organization. Paul Framboise, national president, will visit Victoria March 1 to speak to the members, he said.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

SACROILIACS AND STOMACHS

THERE'S NO DOUBT about it, we are becoming more and more "innards-conscious" than we used to be. Or perhaps it is that we are more ready to talk about it.

Scarcely a day passes that some scientist or other isn't figuring in the news columns as having discovered something new or novel about our insides.

The radio blurbs which preface sponsored programs having to do with pills or panaceas discuss the idiosyncrasies of our human engine with sometimes embarrassing frankness.

And even the popular song is becoming a medium to remind us of our skeletal weaknesses. As for instance that extraordinary current lament of the young lady who bleats to us over the air about "An Awful Pain in the Back of My Sacroiliac."

PAIN IN THE NECK

AMID HER MOANS and our groans she tells us that she caught it while contorting herself in a South American dance, which seemingly doesn't suit the northern anatomy.

However, my knowledge of South American dances is confined to those I have seen done by frenzied, or convulsive, exponents on the screen.

As it's so long since I was at school, taking the most elementary lessons in physiology, I'm a little hazy as to where the $64 gadget of which she complains is situated.

But I do know that the said young lady's wails have inflicted me with an awful pain in the neck! So much so that I am tempted to retaliate on my sacroiliacic sob-sister with a song and a dance about it.

BEER AND PEANUTS

LEAVING SACROILIACS for a moment, let's turn to stomachs as those, too, have been in the spotlight.

Or rather, it was the absence of stomach in a poor mite of eight which amazed the medical experts and headlined her case in the news columns.

The doctors assert that the case of this little Washington, D.C., girl is of particular interest because she has proved that a "tummy" is not essential to life.

But what interested me most about the story was the revelation of what that stomach-less child has lived on for eight years.

According to her mother, Peggy Ann's favorite foods are beer, peanuts and salt herrings. She further elaborated by saying that the child has drunk as much as seven or eight bottles of beer a day and has never become intoxicated!

ACHING VOID

NAIVELY SHE ADMITTED that her child's lack of a stomach hasn't saved her from a stomach-ache, but that she has "had distress" where that organ should be.

Can you wonder? Such a diet would surely distress even the stomach of a goat which is supposed to be of cast-iron constituency.

And the beer, peanut and salt herring menu sounds more like the prelude to a beer-barrel polka than a meal for a growing child.

Yet, says the medical experts, Peggy Ann appears to be a normal, healthy child. To me, the miracle is not so much that the child has lived with a sort of beer-cask interior instead of a "tummy" but that she has lived at all.

And I don't know whether the experts' conclusions should be taken as an admission that stomachs, like some appendices, now rank as can-be-spared parts of our machinery.

STOMACHS AND SENSE

BUT IT CERTAINLY confounds all the calorie-conscious converts and their dietetic dicta!

Another thing which intrigued me about the missing-stomach story is what it didn't say about the parental inadequacies.

For it must be evident that while the daughter, poor lamb, was born minus a stomach, the mother was born minus sense.

Which only goes to prove again that common sense is anything but common. Or as an unknown wit once said:

"While there is just as much horse sense as ever, sometimes it seems that the horses must have it all."
